CORRIGENDUM

New Delhi, the 21st January 1964

S.O. 338.—In the Commission's notification No. 82/66/62, dated the 14th June, 1963, published in the Gazette of India, Part II—Section 3, Sub-Section (ii) (No. 25), dated the 22nd June, 1963, for the portion of the judgement beginning with "3. Coming to the third charge, the case for the appellant is that....." appearing at page 1911 of the said issue of the Gazette and ending with "Rule 63 provides for recount in such cases" at page 1912 (upto last but one para) the following shall be substituted:

"3. Coming to the third charge, the case for the appellant is that there had been an erroneous refusal on the part of the returning officer to supply postal ballot papers to the polling personnel of whom there were as many as 3,750 voters and that such refusal had vitiated the election. As pointed out by the Election Tribunal, there is no proof as to how many of the polling personnel were voters in that particular constituency and how many of them applied for the supply of postal ballot papers to exercise their voting rights by post; but there is however a considerable body of evidence in the case to show that the Returning Officer had improperly refused to supply them with postal ballot papers to a substantial number of the polling officers who had applied for them within the time prescribed and in proper form. Most of their applications had been rejected on the ground that they had not given the name of the polling stations to which they were posted to do duty. The Returning Officer evidently failed to realise that the assignment of polling duties and allotting of persons to particular polling stations was done only two or three days prior to the election day, while the applications for the supply of postal ballot papers by persons who had been assigned polling duties were to be made one week in advance of the election day and that it would be practically impossible for any of the polling personnel to give information required of them. We agree with the learned Election Tribunal that the refusal by the Returning Officer to supply these persons with ballot papers was a denial of an opportunity to those persons to exercise their franchise and that it amounted to an election irregularity. We endorse the view of the Election Tribunal that this omission on the part of the Returning Officer is a highly regrettable one. But the existence of that irregularity will not be sufficient to avoid the election. We have to see whether by reason of such irregularity the result of the election has been shown to have been materially affected. As we stated earlier there was no precise evidence in regard to the number of voters who applied for the supply of postal ballot papers. The Election Tribunal has estimated it to be between 1,000 to 1,500. It is impossible to say that if the polling personnel had been allowed to exercise their franchise by providing them with postal ballot papers, they would necessarily have cast their votes in favour of the appellant and thereby enabled him to win the election. It is true that the appellant had stated in his evidence that several of them had promised to vote for him. But it is well known that election premises mean nothing. Notwithstanding the fact that several of such voters had promised to vote for the appellant there is no evidence as to how many of such voters would have cast their votes in his favour. Indeed even if there was such evidence the probative value of it will have to be carefully examined. Any attempt at this stage to find out to whom the polling personnel would have voted if they had been allowed to vote would be nothing but a venture in a speculative field. In Vasisht Narain Sharma Versus Dev Chand [10 E.L.R. (S.C.) 30] the Supreme Court laid down that the language of Sec. 100(1)(c) now Section 100(1)(d) clearly places the burden of proving that the result of election has been materially affected on the petitioner who impugned the validity of the election and that therefore before declaring an election void, the Tribunal must find out that the result of the election had been materially affected; such a result could not be judged by a mere increase or decrease in the total number of votes secured by the returned candidate but by proof of the fact that the votes would have been distributed in such a manner between the contesting candidates as would have brought about the defeat of the returned candidate.

That was a case of an improper acceptance of the nomination of a candidate with the result that at the poll the improperly accepted candidate secured certain number of votes which were thereby wasted. It was held that there could be no presumption that the wasted votes would have gone to one candidate or the other, and that that was a matter which had to be proved by satisfactory evidence and not by speculation or appraisement of the possibilities. Applying the principle laid down in that case to the present one, we are of opinion that it will be a mere surmise if we were to hold that all the votes of the polling personnel would have gone in favour of the appellant and would have shown the balance in his favour. There is, therefore, no case for setting aside the election on the basis of the improper refusal of the returning officer to provide postal ballot papers to the polling personnel for exercising their franchise at the election.

What then remains is the earnest plea made on behalf of the appellant by Mr. Venugopal for directing a fresh scrutiny of the ballot papers and a recount of the same. Recount is ordered when the Tribunal or the Court is satisfied that there is room to doubt the correctness of the original count. Recently a Bench of this Court to which one of us was party (C.M.A. No. 297 of 1962) laid down that no request for recount could be granted if it rested on nebulous allegations about the counting of votes and where no prima facie case was made out to warrant the directing of a recount. On the other hand recount will be granted only if there is an allegation of miscount substantiated by specific instances and reliable prima facie evidence. In this connection a distinction should be made between a case of directing a recount of votes polled and one of setting aside of an election under Section 100(1)(d) of the Act. In the latter case it will be necessary for the party impugning the election to prove that the result of the election had been effected by the material irregularity alleged. But that will not be necessary for the purpose of directing a recount. In England recount is ordered as a matter of course provided a prima facie case is made out. Although there can be no election petition in this country praying only for recount, in an application for setting aside an election, recount can be directed.

In Lakshamana Iyer V. Rajam Iyer (58 M.L.J. 118) Curnen, J. referred to the English law on the subject and held that if there were reasonable grounds for believing that there had been a mistake on the part of the Returning Officer, the Court could make an order directing recount of the votes.

The learned Election Tribunal in the instant case appears to have thought that in order to entitle the appellant to obtain a direction for recount of votes, it was necessary that he should prove that there was a likelihood of the recount showing that he had really succeeded in obtaining a majority of votes. This is clearly an erroneous view of the matter. We have only to see whether a prima facie case had been made out that there has been miscount. Before the Election Tribunal a number of charges were made in regard to reception of invalid votes, but the appellant's complaint in that respect was negatived. At the same time, it was held that the appellant had prima facie shown that 605 votes had wrongly been rejected. Mr. Venugopal did not, however, press the case that there was such an improper reception or rejection of votes as would merit the setting aside of the election under Section 100(1)(d) of the Act even now; but he submitted that the proved instances would be sufficient to induce the Court to direct a recount. In support of his contention he relied on the evidence of the Returning Officer, R.W. 10, who admitted that a bundle containing 50 ballot papers with the 'tree symbol' of the appellant was wrongly put along with the bundle of votes (ballot papers) cast in favour of the first respondent. Although the appellant claimed that it was he that discovered and pointed out the mistake, we have no hesitation in accepting the evidence of R.W. 10 who stated that it was he who noticed the mistake, and that he immediately rectified the same. This mistake cannot, however, entitle the appellant to a recount, for it had been rectified before counting. The appellant filed an application before the Returning Officer under Rule 63 of the rules framed under the Act for recount. He complained that several of the votes which were marked against his symbol were improperly rejected and that secondly a number of doubtful votes which were marked partly between the Banian tree symbol and the yoked bull symbol had been treated as valid votes cast in favour of the first respondent; again, there were a number of votes missing and if a proper count were taken, the result of the election would have been different. The Returning Officer however rejected this petition. From his order it is not clear that he applied his mind to the objections set out above. He held that there was no justification for any apprehension on the part of the appellant that one mistake, namely, the mixing of a bundle containing fifty votes cast in his favour with the bundles of votes cast in favour of the first respondent was indicative of similar mistakes. But the Returning Officer did not consider the other grounds. We feel that the Returning Officer might have done well and avoided much of the criticism, if he had merely granted the appellant his request. Rule 63 provides for recount in such cases."

AWARD

The Government of India, Ministry of Labour and Employment, by their order No. 70(5)/63-LRIV, dated 28th August 1963, have referred the industrial dispute existing between the employers in relation to the Calcutta Insurance Limited, Calcutta, and their workmen in respect of the question whether the dismissal of Shri Jhabbar Nau, peon of the said employers, was justified and, if not, to what relief he was entitled, for adjudication to this Tribunal.

2. In response to notices issued by the Tribunal, the parties filed their written statements. The workmen represented by the General Insurance Employees' Association, Calcutta (hereafter referred to as the Union), contended inter alia that Shri Jhabbar was a protected workman within the meaning of Section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act; that he received a telegraphic communication on 3rd May 1963, that his mother was hopeless and he should start immediately for his village; that he thereupon applied for one month's leave on 4th May 1963; that according to the usual procedure he was verbally informed by the dealing clerk Dutta that his leave had been sanctioned as prayed for and accordingly he left for his village on the same day after office hours; that in spite of this with a motive of victimising him for his Trade Union activities, the employer sent him a registered letter, dated 8th May 1963, which he received on 14th May 1963, threatening disciplinary action against him for being absent without leave; that there was nothing particular to explain and as the workman was much disturbed in the serious condition of his mother, he could not and did not attend to the above letter of the employer; that the condition of his mother did not improve but still in the anxiety of his service he started for Calcutta at his earliest convenience on 30th May 1963 and reported for duty on 1st June 1963, that is, five days before the date of expiry of leave, but Dutta to whom he reported for work did not allow him to join his duties; that thereupon he addressed a letter to the employer stating all relevant facts; that he was verbally told that he had been dismissed; that the said dismissal was unjustified, mala fide and illegal. The Union therefore prayed that the dismissal should be held unjustified and the workman concerned should be ordered to be reinstated with all back wages.

3. The employers (hereafter referred to as the Company) contended inter alia that several of the allegations of the Union were irrelevant for the purpose of this adjudication; that Jhabbar was appointed on a temporary basis from 18th January 1961; that according to leave rules of the company, he was entitled to privilege leave for 21 days after he had completed 12 months' continuous service; that still on 25th May 1961 he made an application asking for 15 days' leave enclosing a telegram stating that his father was hopeless and he should start immediately; that though he was not entitled to any leave, leave was granted as a special case for one week but he did not return for work after the expiry of the said leave and absented himself for further six days by overstaying his leave; that on 16th May 1962 he applied for three weeks' leave on the ground of his wife's illness but this leave was not sanctioned; that on 28th May 1962 he gave an application enclosing a telegram stating that his father was hopeless; that he started for home without getting his leave sanctioned; that after going home he sent a telegram which reached the company on 8th June 1962 to the effect that his father was precarious and he therefore prayed for ten days' extension; that an application dated 4th May 1963 was received by the dealing clerk Dutta on 6th May 1963; that Jhabbar had no talk with Dutta on 4th May 1963 on any matter nor on leave nor was he verbally informed by Dutta that his leave for one month had been sanctioned; that the different allegations in this connection are false; that when on 6th May 1963, it was found that Jhabbar had absented from work and left for home, a letter was issued to him on 8th May 1963 to which he did not care to reply; that the telegram is not evidence of the alleged illness of his mother; that there was no evidence to show that his mother was sick at all or that her sickness continued thereafter; that Jhabbar had left for home without getting his leave sanctioned; that even in spite of receipt of the company's letter, he did not care to submit his explanation; that the company thereupon sent him a letter on 21st May 1963 fixing an enquiry on 31st May 1963; that no enquiry was necessary; that Jhabbar had rendered himself liable to be dismissed for unauthorised absence; that the management however held an enquiry on 31st May 1963 and found him guilty of unauthorised absence and dismissed him by letter of 1st June 1963; that he filed an application on 1st June 1963 and later on sent another petition containing various false allegations as after-thought to cook up a story in his defence; that he is not a protected workman as alleged; that neither management nor Dutta had any reason to victimise Jhabbar; that the allegations in this respect are all false. The company therefore urged that the dismissal of Jhabbar was proper and that he was not entitled to any relief.

4. The dispute in the present case relates to the dismissal of a peon named Jhabbar who was admittedly appointed as such in the Calcutta Insurance Limited in January 1961. He was dismissed on 1st June 1963 for unauthorised absence from duty from 6th May 1963. The Union's case is that on 3rd May 1963, the workman received a wire from his father informing him that his mother was hopeless. Thereupon on 4th May 1963, he approached a clerk Dutta who deals with such matter and showed this wire to him. Dutta told him that as his train was leaving in the evening, he could work for that day and leave in the evening. The Union's further case is that Jhabbar got an application for leave for one month written and went to give it to Dutta but Dutta said that he should give it to the clerk of the despatch department. It is further their case that Dutta informed him about 11 a.m. that his leave had been granted for one month, and thereupon Jhabbar left Calcutta that evening and when to his native place where his mother was lying ill.

5. According to the Company, the allegations that Jhabbar had seen Dutta on 4th and Dutta had said that his leave had been granted are all false. Their case is that the application for leave of Jhabbar was found by Dutta lying on his table when he went to his office on 6th May 1963. He thereupon put it up before the Managing Director who alone had the power to grant leave. The Managing Director enquired whether Jhabbar was on duty that day but was told that he was not. Thereupon, at the instance of the Managing Director, a notice was sent to Jhabbar by registered post on the 8th informing him that he had been absenting from duty from 6th without leave which was considered to be a serious misconduct and he was asked to show cause within two days from the receipt of the letter as to why disciplinary action should not be taken against him. This letter was sent to Jhabbar by registered post and reached him on the 14th. Admittedly he did not reply to it.

6. The Company further contends that having not got any reply to the above letter, and though it was not bound to hold an enquiry in the matter, an enquiry was held on the 31st May and Jhabbar was informed about it on 21st May by a letter sent to him under Certificate of Posting. Jhabbar did not appear at the enquiry which was duly held in his absence. He was held guilty and thereupon the management ordered his dismissal and a letter was sent to him about it on 1st June 1963.

7. The workmen's case is that though Jhabbar received the letter of 8th May 1963 on 14th May 1963, he did not know its contents because there was no one in the village who could read. He got this letter read out to him after about a week when he went to a nearby town. Even then he did not reply because he thought of joining his duties on the 1st June; accordingly he reached Calcutta on the 1st of June and went to join his duty but was not allowed to do so by Dutta who told him that he had been dismissed. Here again there is a difference between the employers' and the workmen's case. According to the workmen, when Dutta did not allow Jhabbar to join his duty, Jhabbar went to the Union and got a letter typed out which he signed and gave it to Dutta but Dutta said that he would not get his job on such a letter and he should give another letter which he would write out and he therefore wrote another letter and took Jhabbar's signature on it. On the other hand, the employer's case is that Jhabbar had approached Dutta with this hand written application and at that he was told that he had been dismissed. Thereafter he must have approached the Union and got a letter typed with false allegations as an after-thought to support his case and this typed letter was subsequently sent by Jhabbar probably by post.

8. The first question that would require consideration is whether Jhabbar had been granted leave on 4th May 1963 as alleged by him. As I mentioned above, the Union's case is that Jhabbar had received a wire on 3rd with which he went to the clerk Dutta and Dutta told him that he could go in the evening and further that Jhabbar went to give the application for leave to Dutta but Dutta said that he should give it to the clerk in the Despatch Department and accordingly gave this application to the clerk in the Despatch Department. It is further alleged that Dutta had definitely told Jhabbar orally that his leave for one month had been granted and it is because of this that he left for his native place that evening.

9. In support of this allegation, the Union have examined the workman concerned (namely Jhabbar) and a clerk A. K. Bannerjee who is the Group Secretary of the Union. Jhabbar's evidence is to the above effect. The evidence of Bannerjee is to the effect that on 4th May Jhabbar came to him first between 10.30 a.m. to 10.45 a.m. and told him that he had given an application for leave to Dutta but that he was not sure whether it would be granted or not. Bannerjee has further stated that after a few minutes Jhabbar again went to him and told him that his leave had been sanctioned and that he (i.e. Bannerjee) believed that during this time Dutta must have taken the application to the Secretary and got it sanctioned and he must have thereafter told Jhabbar that the leave was sanctioned.

10. It may be noted at the outset that there are discrepancies between the evidence of Jhabbar and Bannerjee in several respects. Firstly, according to Jhabbar, Dutta had power to grant leave and in exercise of that power Dutta had granted him leave and told him about it. On the other hand, Bannerjee says that Dutta had no power to grant leave even to the subordinate staff and the power was with the Secretary. Then Bannerjee says that Jhabbar met him twice and that at the first occasion he said that he had given an application for leave and that he was not sure whether his leave would be granted and even wanted Bannerjee to use his influence to have it granted, and that after some time, Jhabbar again went to him and told him that his application had been granted and Bannerjee believed that during this time Dutta must have taken the application for leave and got it sanctioned by the Secretary. Jhabbar does not only not refer to having had any talk with Bannerjee, but he says that leave was granted to him by Dutta, as soon as he asked for it; that is, he could not have had any doubt at any time whether leave asked for would be granted to him. In other words, Bannerjee's evidence contradicts Jhabbar's in several respects.

11. It was urged by Shri Sen Gupta on behalf of the workmen that the Circular Exhibit W-9, dated 24th January 1962 showed that Dutta had power to grant leave. That circular mentions that Dutta was designated as Head-assistant and that he had to handle matters mentioned therein including staff leave applications. It was urged that this shows that Dutta had power to grant leave. I do not agree with this contention. When a person is asked to handle an application, it does not mean that he has the power to grant it or reject it or to pass orders on it. It only means that he has to look into it and put it up for orders before the appropriate officer with remarks, if any, that may be necessary. I do not agree with the interpretation sought to be put on this circular that Dutta had power to grant leave.

12. It may be mentioned in this connection that soon after this circular was issued, Jhabbar had applied for leave in 1962 on 28th May 1962 (Ex. E-8). This application bears the endorsement of the Managing Director about granting him seven days' leave. If Dutta had the power to grant leave, there was no reason why this application should have been put up before the Managing Director or as to why leave should have been granted by the Managing Director.

13. It was then urged on behalf of the workmen that the company has not produced any order showing that the power to grant leave remained with the Managing Director alone and that no one else had power to do so. This contention, in my opinion, has no force. The Head of the office has the power to grant leave. This power can be delegated and it would be for the party alleging such a delegation to show that there has been such a delegation. In the absence of any order about delegation, it must be held that there was no delegation.

14. As I said above, except the evidence of Jhabbar there is no evidence to show that Dutta had power to grant leave to the sub-staff. Dutta is an ordinary Head-assistant and I do not think that such power should have been delegated to him. Jhabbar's evidence on this point is contradicted by the Union's own witness Bannerjee who is, as I stated above, the Group Secretary of the Union and who has definitely stated that Dutta had no power to grant leave even to the members of the sub-staff.

15. The Secretary of the Company Shri Chatterjee has been examined as a witness on behalf of the Company. He has stated that applications for leave even of peons are not put before him if the Managing Director is present in the office. In other words, the power to grant leave is with the Managing Director when he is present and might be with the Secretary in absence of the Managing Director. Chatterjee has also stated that applications for leave can be granted only by the Managing Director. On the whole, I do not believe Jhabbar's allegation that the power to sanction leave was with Dutta.

16. Coming to the question as to what happened on the 4th May, we have, as I mentioned above, firstly the version of Jhabbar that he approached Dutta who granted him leave and asked him to give an application to the Despatch section. Then there is evidence of Bannerjee who is the Group Secretary of the Union and all that he said is that Jhabbar told him that he had been granted leave. It may be noted here that Jhabbar himself does not mention that he had gone to Bannerjee or told him anything. He does not refer to either earlier talk as alleged by Bannerjee or to the later talk as alleged by him. Bannerjee has no personal knowledge about the grant of leave, and his evidence could have been used only to corroborate Jhabbar's evidence, if any, on the point of Jhabbar having told Bannerjee about grant of leave to him; and when Jhabbar himself does not say anything in the matter, the statement of Bannerjee that Jhabbar told him a particular thing is mere hearsay and not admissible in evidence and in any case has no value.

17. Thus the only evidence about the alleged grant of leave is that of Jhabbar above. That allegation is denied by Dutta who has said not only that he did not grant any leave but that Jhabbar had not even met or seen him on the 4th May. I do not believe Jhabbar. I believe Dutta and hold that the allegation of Jhabbar that he had approached Dutta on the 4th May and his further allegation that Dutta had granted him leave are not true.

18. The probabilities also are against Jhabbar's allegation being true. Firstly, Jhabbar is not clear as to by whom he had got his application for leave written. He says that he had got it written by a clerk in the office but he does not remember the name of that clerk. That clerk has not been examined. If Jhabbar's application had been written in the office on the 4th after he approached Dutta and after Dutta told him to give an application and if this application had been written by some clerk of the office that clerk could have been examined in support of that allegation; but that has not been done.

19. It is then said that Jhabbar first went to give this application to Dutta but Dutta said that it should be given to the despatch section. This allegation is made probably to explain as to why no orders were passed on the application itself on the 4th and to suggest that the application must have been put up before the Managing Director on the 6th who must not have granted it to victimise Jhabbar. If this application was given to the clerk of the despatch section, it would have borne a rubber stamp of receipt. Shri Bannerjee has stated that when any letter is received by the clerk in the despatch section, a rubber stamp about receipt is affixed to it but there is no such stamp on this application though we find such a rubber stamp in the typed application of Jhabbar of 1st June 1963 to which I shall come later on. In this connection, I may mention that before the Conciliation Officer, it had been alleged that this application had been given by Jhabbar to the Receiving Clerk of the company after obtaining a receipt from him. In his deposition, Jhabbar does not refer to any such receipt nor has any such receipt been produced before me, nor is the clerk to whom this application is said to have been given examined. I do not believe Jhabbar's allegation that this application was given by him to a clerk of the despatch section nor do I believe that he did so at the instance of Dutta. Admittedly, he did not give his application to Dutta. I believe Dutta's allegation that he found this application lying on his table when he went to the office on 6th May 1963.

20. If this application had really been granted on the 4th as alleged by Jhabbar, there is no reason why within only two days, the employer should have thought of taking action against him. It has been alleged that action was taken against him because of his Trade Union activities. Excepting that Jhabbar is a member of the Executive Committee of the local branch of the Union, there is nothing to show that he was taking any active part in Trade Union activities or that he had incurred displeasure of the management because of this. Admittedly, almost all the members of the staff of the company are members of the Union. There was no reason for the management to single out a particular member only because he happened to be a member of the Executive Committee. I might repeat that there is not even an allegation that Jhabbar was doing any active work of the Union or that because of any particular action of his, he had incurred the management's displeasure.

21. It was admitted in his cross examination by Shri Bannerjee that the company had not taken any action against any member of the Executive Committee at any time. Later on, however, he sought to give two instances of such victimisation; one was about himself where a warning was issued to him for not being in his seat and being away from the office room without permission. He admits that he was absent as alleged; all that he says is that he was absent only for 10 minutes. It was argued that the action of warning for absence of 10 minutes was unusual and must be taken to be a case of victimisation. In the first place, there is no evidence to show that the absence was only for 10 minutes. We do not know whether Bannerjee protested to the company in this connection for this warning for only 10 minute's absence. Again, we do not know whether this was the first instance or there were other instances of absence of this type. In any case, if a person is absent from his office without leave and if the employer gives him a warning for it, it cannot be said that it is a case of victimisation. Office bearers of a Union have no special privileges and are amenable to the usual discipline of the office, and if Bannerjee was found committing a breach of discipline and if the management warned him for it, it could not be said to be a case of victimisation.

22. Another instance of alleged victimisation was said to be of a clerk, who had been transferred and it was said that transfer is not usual in this company and so this must be considered to be a case of victimisation. In this connection, it is admitted by Shri Bannerjee that the matter of this clerk was taken up before the Conciliation Officer and that there was a settlement at that time and under the terms of settlement, leave which was due to the clerk was granted to him before he joined his new duty and after that he was asked to carry out the transfer which he did. In other words, it cannot be said to be a case of victimisation.

23. It was then alleged that he was a protected workman within the meaning of Section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act. I do not think that he could be said to be a protected workman in the present case. The definition of protected workman given in the explanation of sub-section (3) of Section 33 clearly mentions that the said definition is for the purpose of that sub-section. Admittedly no proceedings were pending at the time of the present action and Section 33 had therefore no application and no one could be said to be a protected workman.

24. The Union appears to be under the impression that a person who is a member of their Executive Committee is always protected and the employers cannot take action against him even for proved misconduct. This impression is not warranted by law. As I mentioned above, a workman who is an office-bearer of the union is as much amenable to discipline as any other workman. Of course, if any action is taken against him because of his Trade Union activities, it would be a case of victimisation and the employers action in such case may not be approved or up-held. But merely because a person is a member of the Executive Committee, it does not mean that the employer cannot take any action against him even if he is found guilty of misconduct.

25. There is one more circumstance going against the workmen's case. It is that when the company gave a notice to Jhabbar and sent it to him by registered post and he received it on 14th May, he did not reply to it or take any action in the matter. He now says that he could not get this letter read by anyone because there was no one in the village who could read it and that he got it read after about a week when he went to a nearby village. I do not believe this. No such allegation has been made in the written statement of the workmen. A-11 that is alleged on this point is that Jhabbar was very much disturbed in the serious condition of his mother and hence he could not and did not attend to this letter and that though the condition of his mother did not improve beyond risk yet in the anxiety for service he started for Calcutta at his earliest convenience on 30th May 1963 and reported for duty on 1st June 1963. His present allegation that he did not get the letter read for a week does not find place in the written statement. Further, when a person receives a registered letter, he would feel that it must be an important letter and would naturally be anxious to know its contents. The nearest town is only 2½ miles from his place and even if there was no one who could read the letter in his village, he would have gone to the nearest town and got this letter read almost immediately on receipt. Further, even though he says that he had got this letter read about a week after it reached him (i.e., on or about 21st May), he did not reply to it for 9 or 10 days thereafter. Nothing prevented him from doing so if his present allegations are true.

26. On the whole, after having carefully considered the entire evidence and the probabilities in the case, I am satisfied that Jhabbar had not been granted leave as alleged by him and that he left for his native place without obtaining any leave.

27. It would thus be clear that Jhabbar was absent from duty without leave from the 6th of May. A notice was thereupon sent to him on 8th of May which reached him on the 14th of May, but he did not reply to it. It was urged that giving a notice to a man within two days of his absence was unusual. It is true that ordinarily a notice would not be sent to a person on the 3rd day of his absence; but I think that in the present case there were circumstances which must have prompted the management to do so.

28. As I mentioned above, Jhabbar joined his service in January 1961. According to the rules of the company, he was not entitled to any privilege leave unless he completed 12 months' service. In spite of this, he applied in May 1961 for 15 days leave on the ground of his father's illness and this application was supported by a telegram. It is significant to note that this telegram bears the date of 23rd May; still Jhabbar gave the application for leave only on the 25th May and even then he asked for leave commencing from 27th which was a Saturday. A week's leave was granted to him; but he overstayed the leave and enjoined leave for 15 days (as had been asked for by him).

29. In 1962, he gave an application on 16th May 1962 asking for leave for 3 weeks commencing from 21st May on the ground that his wife was lying seriously ill. This leave was not granted. On 28th May he gave an application for leave with a wire (which was received on the 26th) mentioning that his father was hopeless and he should go there to see his face. Thereupon 7 days' leave was granted to him from the 29th May. Before the leave was granted, however, he had left for home, and from there he sent a wire on the 8th June stating that his father was in a precarious condition and his leave should be extended by 10 days. He joined duty after expiry of this extended period (i.e., after enjoying leave for the full period of 3 weeks as originally asked for by him).

30. In view of this past conduct of Jhabbar, in applying for leave every year in the month of May on allegations which appeared to be false, the management were justified in suspecting that when he absented himself from the 6th of May by leaving an application mentioning that his mother was serious, that this was another attempt by him to go home. Both in 1961 and 1962 he had alleged that his father was serious and precarious, which allegation does not appear to be true because his father is still alive. In 1962 he had first alleged that his wife was in a serious condition and still curiously enough he had asked for leave which was to commence after 5 days showing that the excuse given in the application was not true. It also appears that when this application was not granted, he gave another application with a wire that his father was hopeless and he left office before that leave was granted to him. After going home he sent a wire for extension of leave and joined later on. On both occasions, he remained absent for the full period applied for by him, though leave was granted for a shorter period. In spite of this, his absence had been tolerated and he must probably have been under the impression this time also that he could do so again and he must have left the application with someone and gone away before leave was granted and even when he got the registered letter, he did not reply to it believing that when he would go, he would be allowed to join as in the past.

31. It was urged on behalf of the workmen that Jhabbar's present version was given by him from the outset, when he reported for duty on 1st June. There is a difference in the version of Jhabbar and Dutta on as to what happened on that day. According to Jhabbar, he reached the office at about 12 noon and was not allowed to join his duties. He thereupon went to the Union and got a letter typed and after signing it he gave it to Dutta (this letter being Ex. E-1). Dutta then told him that he would not get his job by such a letter and that he would get a job by a letter which he wrote out and thereupon Jhabbar signed it and that letter is Ex. E-2. Jhabbar has said that even then he was not allowed to join his duties.

32. Dutta's version is that on the 1st June, Jhabbar went to him with the letter Ex. E-2 at about 1 p.m. He told him that he could not be allowed to join his duties as he had been dismissed and that a letter of dismissal had already been sent to him by post. Dutta has further said that the letter Ex. E-1 was never given or shown to him.

33. The version as now told by Jhabbar about how he gave two letters on 1st June 1963 has not been given in the written statement, which refers to only one letter (i.e. Ex. E-1). Probably the Union was then not aware about Jhabbar's having given a letter Ex. E-2. It is only when this letter (Ex. E-2) has been produced before the Tribunal that Jhabbar has now sought to give an explanation, that it was written by Dutta and his signature obtained under a false representation. Between the two versions, I believe Dutta's version and not that of Jhabbar.

34. Apart from the fact that no reference has been made to the letter (Ex. E-2) in the written statement, is important to note that according to Jhabbar this letter was written by Dutta, whereas Dutta denies his handwriting thereof. We have then the fact that the letter Ex. E-1 bears the rubber stamp of receipt of the company of 4th June showing that it must have been sent by Jhabbar by post. It is an admitted fact that letter Ex. E-1 was got written by him at the Union office and naturally an attempt has been made therein to give explanations. On this point also, I do not believe Jhabbar's version.

35. When he did not reply to the letter of explanation, the management sent another letter to him on the 21st May stating that an enquiry would be held against him on the 31st May when he should remain present; otherwise, it would be conducted in his absence. He remained absent. The enquiry was held ex parte and as a result of the finding of the enquiry, he was dismissed.

36. It was urged by Shri Sen Gupta on behalf of the workman that this letter of 21st May never reached Jhabbar and hence the enquiry which was held was not proper, as the workman had not got notice about the enquiry. In my opinion, the workman must have received this letter of 21st May. It was sent to him under certificate of posting and it must be presumed that he received it. No doubt, he says that he did not receive it but apart from his statement being an interested one I am not prepared to place reliance on his word as I have found him not speaking the truth on other points.

37. There is one other circumstance which shows that he must have received this letter of 21st May. It is that it was mentioned in this letter that an enquiry would be held against him on 31st May. According to him, he had been granted one month's leave from the 6th May and he was not due to join before the 6th of June. Even when he received the first registered letter, he did not care to reply to it nor did he care to rejoin his duties. He must have then got the second letter of 21st May stating that an enquiry was to be held against him on 31st May and this must have frightened him and thereupon he left his village on 30th May with a view to reach Calcutta on 31st May in time for the enquiry. For one reason or another, he was not able to do so and reached Calcutta only on the 1st June. The fact that he did leave his place on 30th May shows that he wanted to reach Calcutta on 31st May and it means that he must have received the letter of 21st May in which it was mentioned that an enquiry was to be held against him on 31st May.

38. Apart from this, I think that an enquiry was not necessary in the present case. An enquiry has to be held to enable a workman to explain the chargesheet against him. But where facts are not in dispute, it was not necessary for the management even to issue a chargesheet against the workman or to hold an enquiry. The charge was of remaining absent without leave, a fact which did not require any explanation or any proof and it was therefore not necessary for the management to hold an enquiry.

39. Further even if an enquiry was necessary, and even if the enquiry that was held was not proper, I think that the Tribunal has power to consider the question on merits on the evidence led before it and from the evidence now before me, I am satisfied that Jhabbar was absent without leave from the 6th of May (5th being a Sunday) and that he was guilty of mis-conduct.

40. It was argued on behalf of the workmen that Jhabbar's explanation that his mother was seriously ill must be believed. It was also said that she had subsequently died. There is absolutely no evidence on this point. Jhabbar himself has not stated so in his deposition. No doubt, a document which purports to be a letter from the Secretary of some Gram Panchayat has been produced but that document has not been admitted in evidence, as the person who purports to have signed it has not been examined as a witness. It is not an extract from a public Record and has no evidentiary value. In other words, therefore, there is no evidence to show that Jhabbar's mother is dead. There is also no evidence that she was really ill. No one has been examined from his native place to show that she was really ill nor has any Medical certificate been produced.

41. It was said that merely because Jhabbar may have given false reasons in the past, it does not necessarily mean that the reasons given on this occasion were not true. I agree that merely because he has given false excuses on past occasions, it would not necessarily mean that his present excuse is not true; but when we look to his conduct on this occasion also, one is inclined to feel that this time also he had given a false excuse as in the past.

42. It was lastly urged that the company has no service rules and that the workmen were never told that they would be dismissed for unauthorised absence even on the very first occasion. On the question of punishment, I think the Tribunal has no jurisdiction to interfere. Apart from this, if an employer finds that a workman stays away from work without permission and that in spite of a registered notice he does not rejoin, it could not be said that the employer was not justified in consideration of the view of the general discipline to dismiss him. His work might get disrupted. If he were to make other arrangements, there would be a further disturbance in the office when such person turned up at his sweet will to resume his work. In this connection, the past conduct of the workman may also have weighed with the management. In any case, I do not think that on the facts of this particular case, the punishment is in any way harsh. Further, as I said above, the Tribunal has no power to interfere on the question of the punishment.

43. In the result, I hold that the dismissal of Jhabbar was justified and he is therefore not entitled to any relief. Parties will bear their own costs.

I pass my award accordingly.

Issue: "Whether the dismissal of Shri Noor Ahmed by the management of the Indian Overseas Bank Ltd., Madras was justified. If not to what relief is the workman entitled?"

This dispute coming on this day for final hearing upon pursuing the claim, counter, rejoinder statements and other material papers on record and upon hearing the arguments of Mr. B. R. Dolia, Advocate for the workers and M/s. V.

Thiagarajan and C. Ramakrishna, Advocates for the management the tribunal passed the following.

AWARD

This reference made by the Government of India, Ministry of Labour and Employment, relates to the dismissal of Sri Noor Ahmed by the management of the Indian Overseas Bank Ltd., Madras.

The charge levelled against the dismissed workmen was that he opened a cover addressed to the Secretary and Legal Adviser, Labour Secretariat of Banks in India, Bombay and superscribed, "private and confidential" and disclosed the contents of the communication to another employee of the Bank Shri S. Ganapathi. The charge itself mentioned that the act complained of fell within the provisions mentioned in paragraphs 521(4)(b) and (j) of the Sastry Award.

Paragraphs 521(4)(b) and (j) of the Sastry Award read thus:—

"521(4)(b): Unauthorised disclosure of information regarding the affairs of the bank or any of its customers or any other person connected with the business of the bank which is confidential or the disclosure of which is likely to be prejudicial to the interests of the bank;

(j) doing any act prejudicial to the interests of the bank, or gross negligence or negligence involving or likely to involve the bank in serious loss."

Both these sub-clauses occur in the list which enumerates "Gross misconduct of employees of Banks".

The explanation of the workman was obtained and an enquiry was held by an officer called Sri Viswanathan. He submitted a finding holding the employee Sri Noor Ahmed guilty of the gross misconduct with which he was charged. He recommended to the management that the employee should be dismissed from service with effect from the date of suspension. Thereafter a copy of the finding was communicated to the workman on 28th November, 1962 see page 99 of the bundle on behalf of the management—and the employee was asked to show cause before the Enquiry Officer on 3rd December 1962, why he should not be dismissed from the Bank's service. Page 101 of the management's bundle contains the explanation which the workman gave in answer to the show cause notice. The entire matter was then placed before the Board of Directors who after perusing all the relevant papers accepted the finding of the Enquiry Officer and imposed the punishment of dismissal from service. Thereupon, the employee wanted to know the authority to whom he should prefer an appeal and he was informed that one Mr. Vardhamanan was the authority designated to hear appeals against orders passed by the Board of Directors. An appeal was in due course presented and the appellate authority concurred with the finding of the Enquiry Officer and dismissed the appeal.

Mr. Dolla made two important points at the outset. The first is that the requirements under the scheme of disciplinary proceedings adumbrated in the Sastry Award and confirmed by Desai Award had not been complied with by this Bank in the disciplinary enquiry. The second is that the designation of an officer of the bank who is subordinate to the authority of the Board of Directors as the appellate authority to hear appeals was to take away by one hand what was given by the other, namely, effective right of appeal. He made a number of other points to show how the enquiry was not fair or proper. But I do not propose to deal with them in detail because I am satisfied that in this case there was no want of bona fides on the part of the management, there was no victimisation or unfair labour practice, there was no basic error on facts, there was no perverse finding by the inquiring authorities on the materials available and there was no violation of principles of natural justice.

Sastry Award as well as Desai Award are clear on the question as to how such enquiries should be conducted. These awards specifically lay down that the management should designate a particular officer as the one competent to initiate and take action in disciplinary matters. After that officer holds an enquiry either by himself or by a deputed officer, he is called upon to issue a show cause notice contemporaneously communicating his findings to the accused-officer. The "show-cause notice" is intended as a second opportunity to the accused to represent what he has to say against the punishment proposed to be inflicted upon him. After show cause notice is answered by the accused officer, the Enquiry Officer or the punishing officer should give his finding. Against that finding the employee is provided with a right of appeal to another officer designated by the management. That appeal, if made, should be heard by the appellate authority after giving all reasonable opportunity to the accused-officer to make any representations that he wants to make either by himself or through a representative. It will then be open to the appellate authority either to confirm the finding of the Enquiry Officer or the punishing authority or to vary or reverse the finding. In this case it is clear that though Mr. Viswanathan was designated as punishing authority, the punishment was really inflicted by the Board of Directors—see page 105 of the management's bundle.

Really having designated Mr. Viswanathan as the punishing authority, the Board of Directors should have called upon Mr. Viswanathan to inflict the appropriate punishment on his finding. This is the first flaw we start with.

The second flaw is that if the Board of Directors themselves are the punishing authority, it would be opposed to all principles of fair play to expect a subordinate of the Board of Directors to hear any appeal against the decision of the Board with an open mind. Therefore the provision for an appellate authority under the Sastry Award became a nullity under the procedure adopted by this Bank.

On both these grounds I am satisfied that the enquiry was neither proper nor fair to the accused officer and therefore on the authority of the Supreme Court in Ritz Theatre v. Its workmen reported in 1962 II II L.L.J. 498, this tribunal is free to review the evidence and finding and to go into the evidence for the purpose of ascertaining if the conclusion of the punishing authority is supported by the evidence on the record. The Supreme Court laid down there that in enquiries of this kind the first question which the Tribunal has to consider is whether a proper enquiry has been held or not. If the tribunal is satisfied that proper enquiry has not been held, then it would be the duty of the tribunal to go into the merits of dispute for itself and before doing so the tribunal is bound to allow the employer to adduce additional evidence, if such an opportunity is sought. It follows when an opportunity is given to the employer to adduce additional evidence, similar opportunity should be given to the accused-officer also to adduce evidence. This decision lays down that if the industrial tribunal is free and bound in one sense to go into the merits of the charge and review the evidence, it must equally be free to review the punishment inflicted by the domestic tribunal. I invited the counsel appearing on both sides Mr. V. Thiagarajan for the Management and Mr. Dolia for the accused-officer to bring to my notice any authority restricting the rights of this tribunal to review the punishment while up holding its right to review the evidence with a view to find out whether the finding of the domestic tribunal was justified. Neither counsel was able to bring to my notice any authority on this question. I, therefore, take it that the duty to review the evidence for the purpose of finding out if the conclusion of the domestic tribunal is justified by the evidence implies the power to modify the punishment if circumstances exist for such modification. I am proceeding on that principle in this case.

Mr. Dolia sought my permission to lead evidence on three points. The first was that the officer who conducted the enquiry shut out evidence which was sought to be let in, the second was that the officer refused to record certain questions which were put to witnesses and refused also to make a note that such questions were not allowed to be put. The third point he wanted to make out was that leading questions were allowed to be put to the witnesses examined on the side of the management and thus the whole conduct of the enquiry was not fair. In addition, he wanted opportunity to lead fresh evidence before this tribunal to show that there were some mitigating circumstances and that the merits of the case on behalf of the accused-officer would be brought out if certain documents were allowed to be produced now. The first document he wanted production of was "a pass book containing the details and particulars of all letters marked 'Private and Confidential' addressed to the General Manager of the respondent for the period till October 1962." The second document was "Staff Department outward despatch register (Branches) for the years 1960, 1961 and 1962." The third document was "the office copy of the letter No. 2321 and 2209 dated 10th September, 1962, respectively addressed to the Labour Secretariat of Banks in India, Bombay". The fourth document was "the minutes of the meeting of the Board of Directors of the respondent bank dated 8th December, 1962 and 19th February, 1963". The 5th document was "General Manager's Circular No. 2 of 1962 dated 13th October, 1962." The sixth document was the "despatch register produced at the domestic enquiry". Mr. Thiagarajan opposed the application on the ground that the documents were not relevant. These documents will have some bearing if the plea of the accused-officer had been different. The plea of the accused-officer was a total denial of the acts mentioned in the charge sheet. I will reproduce the relevant portion of his plea to make this point clear. This is found at page 67 of the management's bundle.

"I was never accused till now that I had opened any confidential communication and read the contents myself or for disclosing the same to others. I further beg to state that I had neither any need nor any motive for opening the cover mentioned in the charge sheet. As the cover was not properly pasted I took the same to the Stencilling desk and applied gum to it. I never opened the cover and hence there was no question of my showing the contents to Mr. Ganapathy or to others."

It will be necessary to state that the cover was addressed to the Legal Adviser of the Labour Secretariat of the Banks in Bombay and the letter referred to a demand made by the staff with reference to concessions to workers granted by the Desai Award. It asked for advice. It was marked "private and confidential".

The facts as established by the evidence of Mr. Kallapiran the staff assistant and Mr. Krishnamoorthy a clerk of the Bank are the following: This communication was prepared by Mr. Kallapiran. It was typed by the confidential typist of the Assistant General Manager. It was then signed by Mr. Kallapiran, sent to the Assistant General Manager (Staff) for counter signature and when it was received back, Mr. Kallapiran asked Mr. Krishnamoorthy, who was there, to find out the next number in the despatch register. It may be incidentally mentioned that Mr. Noor Ahmed the accused officer was the despatching clerk. Mr. Krishnamoorthy went to the desk of the despatching clerk and found out the relevant despatch number and Mr. Kallapiran according to his evidence wrote down this number on the letter, put it inside the cover which was duly superscribed "private and confidential" and gave it to Mr. Krishnamoorthy for being pasted. Mr. Krishnamoorthy who had come to the table of the staff assistant Mr. Kallapiran on some other business, pasted the cover and on the direction of Mr. Kallapiran, Mr. Krishnamoorthy who was standing near the table took the cover from the table and handed it over to Mr. Noor Ahmed the despatching clerk who happened to be there.

Further facts established on the evidence of Mr. Ganapathy and Mr. Thangamuthu are that Mr. Noor Ahmed took the cover to his table, opened the flap, took out the letter, called Mr. Ganapathy and Mr. Ganapathy read the letter to the hearing of Mr. Noor Ahmed. Thereafter, the letter was put inside the cover and it was despatched. Thangamuthu who is a peon in the section was seeing the opening of the flap, and the reading of the letter, the former by Mr. Noor Ahmed and the latter by Mr. Ganapathy. Immediately, the matter was reported to the higher authorities and to the Assistant General Manager who enquired into the matter Mr. Noor Ahmed made an admission. It was reduced to writing, after he had been taken to the General Manager who was apprised of the whole incident. Messrs. Ganapathy and Thangamuthu also gave statements in writing admitting the part ascribed to them. Messrs. Ganapathy, Kallapiran, Krishnamoorthy and Thangamuthu were all examined as witnesses on the side of the management. I have been taken through their evidence in detail by Mr. Dolia and the criticism he made against two of them, namely, Messrs. Ganapathy and Thangamuthu was that they were willing to sell their soul to save their skin. He reinforced that criticism by pointing out that the management let them off without taking any action. I am not impressed with this argument because the culpability of Mr. Ganapathy is certainly less than the culpability of Mr. Noor Ahmed. Mr. Thangamuthu's culpability is very little. As against Mr. Kallapiran, the criticism made by Mr. Dolia was that he is shown to have not spoken the truth on some matters, that he is over enthusiastic in supporting the conduct of the management, and therefore he should be disbelieved. I am not entering into all the details of this criticism levelled against the evidence of Mr. Kallapiran. He is a staff officer. There was no previous enmity between him and Mr. Noor Ahmed. Absolutely there is no purpose in this officer cooking up a charge against Mr. Noor Ahmed unless the incident had happened.

Mr. Dolia pointed out certain discrepancies between the evidence of Mr. Kallapiran and that of Mr. Krishnamoorthy as regards what took place in the room of the Assistant General Manager and who numbered the letter in question. These are minor matters which do not affect the material portion of the evidence of Mr. Kallapiran. Mr. Krishnamoorthy did not say that he numbered the letter.

Mr. Dolia's next criticism was that some leading questions were put to Mr. Kallapiran and that vitiates the credibility of his evidence. As instances, he pointed out certain questions occurring at pages 5 and 15 of the Enquiry Proceedings. Question at page 5 refers to the attempt to elicit from this witness what was the answer given by Mr. Noor Ahmed to Assistant General Manager as regards showing of the letter to Messrs. Ganapathy and Thangamuthu. Mr. Kallapiran had not stated in his evidence that he (Mr. Noor Ahmed) had showed the letter to Messrs. Ganapathy and Thangamuthu. It was attempted to be elicited from Mr. Kallapiran that these two persons were shown the letter.

The questions and answers may be reproduced in order to appreciate the force of Mr. Dolia's argument:

"Question: Did he say only that he opened cover and not anything else?
Answer: I do not remember.

Question: Did he mention that he showed the letter to anybody?

Answer: On further interrogation by the Ass't. Genl. Manager he said that he showed the letter to his colleagues Mr. Ganapathy and Mr. Thangamuthu."

There is what I would call "intelligent leading" but not "gross leading" of the witness. This touches upon a matter which is not material to the charge, because as I will presently show the admission made by the accused-officer before the Assistant General Manager, though put in evidence, may be ignored for the present purpose.

The second point of leading question relates to the threats alleged to have been made by the Assistant General Manager to extort confession from Mr. Noor Ahmed. They are not material for our purpose because I am not relying upon the admissions made by Mr. Noor Ahmed before the Assistant General Manager. I do not find the evidence of Mr. Kallapiran was vitiated by any leading questions put to him on a material point.

Brushing aside the admissions made to the Assistant General Manager immediately after the occurrence by Mr. Noor Ahmed, we have got the evidence of 4 persons, Messrs Kallapiran, Krishnamoorthy, Ganapathy and Thangamuthu to establish the charge. The attempt of the accused-officer to get the concerned letter into the record and to get the despatch register is really not intended to advance his defence. His defence was not that he had opened the cover and seen the letter on the directions of his superior officers for any legitimate purpose of numbering the letter or making entries in the despatch register. If such had been his defence, these documents would have been necessary. The simple defence of denial which he made impliedly carries with it the acceptance of the case of the management that the cover was pasted down, that is to say, closed, that the letter was superscribed "Private and Confidential" and that it had already been numbered with a despatch number if the evidence of management witness is credible. The only duty of the despatching clerk in these circumstances was to frank the letter and send it on to the post office. In view of the nature of the defence taken by the accused-officer, the elaborate argument made by Mr. Dolia that the enquiry was neither fair nor proper does not at all appeal to me. What I meant when I said at the beginning of this award "by the enquiry not being proper" is that the procedure adopted by the management departed from what was laid down by the Sastry Award and Desai Award in the two points I mentioned, namely, punishment not being awarded by the punishing authority nominated by the management and the right of appeal in this case being an illusory right because punishment had already been awarded by the Board of Directors. In no other sense did I mean that the domestic enquiry was not fair or proper.

I am not also satisfied that there is any substance in the plea that the evidence was not recorded in a proper manner by the Enquiry Officer. Mr. Dolia referred to a communication sent by the Union representative to the Enquiry Officer contemporaneously complaining of this allegation. That does not form part of the record. It does not contain illustrations to justify the allegation that questions actually put and answers elicited were not recorded. It merely makes a general allegation that the Enquiry Officer was not recording evidence properly. Such a kind of general allegation is neither here nor there.

Before I finish this matter I should refer to Mr. Dolia's request for permission to examine Mr. Menon, the Union representative, who represented the accused-officer in the domestic enquiry. His present request does not stand on a better footing than his other request. His right to lead evidence would only be dependent upon, as was pointed out by Justice Gajendragadkar in the Ritz Theatre Ltd. case the management exercising their right to lead evidence. This is not a case where the accused-officer absented himself before the domestic tribunal or the domestic tribunal shut out any relevant matter sought to be adduced by way of defence. A review by another tribunal of a conclusion come to by the domestic tribunal which is like a court of first instance does not necessarily always imply the right to lead evidence before the reviewing authority except where specific instances of rejection of proper evidence, shutting out questions to witnesses which questions were proper are established before the reviewing authority. Otherwise exercise of the right to lead fresh evidence before the reviewing authority would open the flood gates to perjury.

Lastly, even though I am satisfied that the conclusion of the Enquiry Officer as regards the guilt of the accused person, i.e. that the charge framed against the employee was substantiated by the record, Mr. Dolia is right in my view in contending that the record of the service of this employee for 17 years without any punishment has not been taken due note of by the punishing authority, namely, the management, in assessing the punishment that ought to be inflicted on the accused-officer. In my view, the punishment of dismissal from service, implying as it does, loss of gratuity amount, loss of employer's contribution towards provident fund due to the employee, is severe in this case. No previous misconduct has been alleged or proved against the accused-officer Mr. Noor Ahmed. The conduct of which Noor Ahmed was accused is no doubt heinous in that it shows that Noor Ahmed was undependable, disloyal and unfit to hold any post involving keeping faith with the management. Any despatching clerk behaving like Noor Ahmed which amounts to positive disobedience of instructions given by the officers of the bank does not deserve to remain in the service of the bank. He started his career as a messenger boy and was recently promoted to the clerical grade. I, therefore, consider that discharge from service would be sufficient punishment in this case. While therefore upholding the finding of the domestic Enquiry Officer, I substitute the punishment of dismissal from service by discharge from service.

There will be an award accordingly. I do not award costs to either side in view of the peculiar nature of the facts of the case.

AWARD

This reference was referred by the Ministry of Labour & Employment, Government of India, by its Order No. 23/17/61-LRII dated the 27th October, 1961, under Section 10(1)(d) of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, for adjudication to the Industrial Tribunal, Delhi, of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs Mohammad and Sons, Contractors of Messrs Associated Cement Companies Limited, Jodhpur, and their workmen employed in Bhadwasi Gypsum mines, in respect of the matters specified below:

1. What should be the scales of wages for various types of operations carried on in the establishment and from what date the same should apply?
2. Whether the workmen are entitled to following facilities.
 - (a) Paid Weekly holidays, (b) Festival holidays, (c) Casual leave, and, (d) Provident Fund and if so, at what rate?
3. Whether the workmen are entitled to any bonus for the years 1958-59 and 1959-60, and if so, at what rate?
4. Whether the workmen are entitled to any housing facility or house rent in lieu thereof, and if so, at what scale?".

2. On behalf of the workmen concerned, the Gypsum Mine Workers' Union, Bhadwasi, filed a statement of claims on 15th November 1961 under Section 10B(1) of the Industrial Disputes (Central) Rules, 1957. Messrs Mohammad and Sons, Gypsum Contractors to A.C.C. Limited, Jodhpur, thereafter filed their written statement on 18th December 1961. On behalf of the workmen their Union filed on 6th January 1962 a rejoinder to the written statement of the management to which the management also later filed a rejoinder on 9th February 1962. The claim of the workmen and the defence of the management on the disputes involved in the present reference will be dealt with while deciding each item of dispute as the disputes involved are many in number.

3. The Delhi Tribunal on 29th September 1962 framed issues in these terms:

1. Whether the dispute has been espoused by an appreciable number of workmen of the respondent-Contractor Messrs Mohammad and Sons and the Gypsum Mines Workers Union, Bhadwasi has any locus standi to represent the workmen?
2. Whether the scales of wages paid by the contractors to various categories of the workmen required to be revised, and, if so, in what way?
3. As in terms of reference No. 2.
4. Whether the accounts of the contractor are kept for the calendar year and not as stated in the reference and whether in the circumstances any relief can be awarded in regard to demand No. 3? If so, what?
5. As in term of reference No. 4.

I propose, however, to take up only issue No. 1 out of the issues framed above and the four items of disputes referred, as amended, and as stated hereinafter in para 8 of this award, which in my opinion, cover all the disputes.

4. On 1st October 1962 affidavits and counter-affidavits were filed by the parties. One affidavit was sworn on 1st October 1962 by Sri Bharat Bhushan W.W.I and, another was sworn by Shri Ujas Mal, Munib of the Contractor, Mohammad and Sons. The affidavit sworn by the General Secretary, Sri B. Bhushan of the Union is Ext. W. 35 and is on the merits of the case and on the question of the formation of the Gypsum Mine Workers' Union, Bhadwasi, and, other matters connected with the reference. The affidavit sworn by Sri Ujas Mal, Munib, on behalf of the Contractor, Exhibit M. 92, however, is only to the effect that Exhibits M. 1 to M. 77 are true to the best of knowledge and belief of the deponent. No oral evidence was recorded by the Delhi Tribunal.

5. Subsequently, on 20th March 1963 by an order of the Ministry of Labour & Employment, Government of India the aforesaid industrial dispute pending before the Industrial Tribunal at Delhi was withdrawn under Section 33B(1) of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, from the Industrial Tribunal, Delhi, and transferred to this Tribunal at Dhanbad for disposal with the direction to proceed from the stage at which it is being transferred and to dispose it of according to law.

6. This reference, which was registered as industrial dispute case No. 302 of 1961 by the Delhi Tribunal, was received by this Tribunal on 29th April 1963 whereupon it was registered as Reference No. 32 of 1963 and was fixed for hearing at Jodhpur on 11th November 1963 when the hearing was taken up at Jodhpur. Evidence, oral and documentary, was finished at Jodhpur, but arguments, at the request of the parties, were fixed at Bikaner, which were concluded there.

7. The Ministry of Labour & Employment by its Order dated 17th September 1963 amended Item No. 3 of the schedule to the original reference containing the four items of dispute, to the following effect:

"In the schedule to the said notification in item 3, for the words and figures "for the years 1958-59 and 1959-60" the words and figures "for the calendar years 1958 and 1959" shall be substituted."

8. The items of dispute, as amended on 17th September 1963, contained in the schedule to the reference, therefore, stand as follows:

1. What should be the scales of wages for various types of operations carried on in the establishment and from what date the same should apply?
2. Whether the workmen are entitled to following facilities:
 - (a) Paid Weekly Holidays, (b) Festival Holidays, (c) Casual Leave, and (d) Provident Fund, and, if so, at what rate?
3. Whether the workmen are entitled to any bonus for the calendar years 1958 and 1959, and, if so at what rate?
4. Whether the workmen are entitled to any housing facility or house rent in lieu thereof, and, if so, at what scale?".

9. Before the Delhi Tribunal both the parties filed documents, which were marked by that Tribunal, as Exhibits W to W. 29 on behalf of the workmen and Exhibit M to M. 77 on behalf of the management. Before this Tribunal, when the case was taken up for hearing at Jodhpur, the workmen examined two witnesses, namely, W.W. 1, Shri Bharat Bhushan, General Secretary of the Union, and W.W. 2, Sri Aidan, one of the workmen concerned, and also filed further documents, which were marked as Exhibits W. 30 to W. 40. The management also examined four witnesses, namely, M.W. 1, Shri R. S. Bhandari, Quarry Manager, Sindri Fertiliser Group of Mines; M.W. 2, Sri A. C. Malhotra, Accountant of the said Corporation; M.W. 3, Sattar Khan, Wagon Leader of the Mine and M.W. 4, Sri Abdul Hakim, a partner of Mohammad and Sons Ltd., Contractors and also filed certain other documents, which were marked as Exhibits M. 78 to M. 92.

It may be mentioned, as appeared from the representation of the parties, that all the documents exhibited on both sides before the Delhi Tribunal were taken in evidence and marked as Exhibits with mutual consent. Before this Tribunal also the remaining documents were admitted in evidence and marked as exhibits with mutual consent by waiving formal proof thereof.

10. Before this Tribunal the workmen were represented by Sri Roshan Lal, Joint Secretary of the Union, which represented the workmen concerned, and the contractor management was represented by Sri Ujas Mal, its Munib.

At the commencement of the hearing before me an application was made on behalf of the management to the effect that both the parties should be permitted to be represented by lawyers. I had no objection to this, but as the Union objected to the management being represented by a lawyer, I had to reject the application with the result that both parties were represented throughout the hearing before this Tribunal by their aforesaid respective representatives.

11. I may at the outset state that although both the parties filed number of documents and got them exhibited but in the course of their arguments they referred only to some of them. I shall, therefore, mention and consider only those documents which were referred to by the parties in course of their arguments.

12. As a basis of compromise the workmen filed their minimum demands and the management also filed its minimum concessions. It would be useful to set out below the concessions of both parties here.

A. WORKMEN'S MINIMUM DEMANDS

The minimum demands on behalf of the workmen submitted by Sri Roshan Lal, their representative, are these:

1. We are prepared to waive the demands of weekly holiday with pay and housing facility or House Rent Allowance if the management is willing to accede to our demands of increase in wages, P.F., Festival Holidays, casual leave and Bonus as shown below:
2. The wages to the excavators, transporters, loaders and supervisors (sub-contractors) may be paid at the average daily rate as worked out by the management themselves as stated in their documents.
3. The wages to the rest of the categories of workmen should be paid as under which are the minimum wages:

1. Black Smiths	Rs. 90/- per month.
2. Bullock Cart Drivers	Rs. 70/- ,,
3. Jamadars	Rs. 70/- ,,
4. Loading and Unloading labourers and Road repairers.	Rs. 60/- ,,
5. Waterman	Rs. 60/- ,,
4. These are the basic wages and D.A. should be paid to all the workmen at 75 per cent of neutralisation of cost of living index linking it with the Ajmer Index number.
5. Casual Leave may be reduced from 15 to 10.
6. P.F. should be deducted at 8 1/3 per cent of the pay and the management should contribute equally.
7. Seven paid national and festival holidays should be given to all the workmen.

9. Bonus for the years 1958, 1959 and 1960 should be paid at the rate of two months' wages instead of 4 months.

10. These demands should be brought into force from the date of reference".

B. MANAGEMENTS' CONCESSIONS

The proposed concessions to be given to the workmen by the management, filed before this Tribunal, under the signature of Shri Abdul Hakim, one of the partners, M.W. 4 are these:

Category	Present rate by the Management	Rates prevailing in similar industries	Proposed revised rate
Excavators	Rs. 1.25 nP. Per ton	Rs. 1.25 nP. per ton	Rs. 1.25 nP. per ton

There is the system of petty contractors who are paid by the management at the above rate for the total tons excavated. They in turn engage workmen and pay them. As per Exhibits M. 23 to M. 26 roughly 70 per cent of the amount paid is distributed by them to workmen and they retain 30 per cent with them. This system of petty contractors is to be abolished and the workmen shall be on the pay rolls of the management and shall be paid direct by the management. This will result in an increase of 30 per cent in the wages received by excavators.

Category	Present rate	Rates prevailing in Gypsum industry
Transporters	Rs. 3.75 per ton or 0.94 per mile.	Rs. 3.50 or 0.39 per mile.

Since the rates payable by the management is double the rate payable to transporters in the same industry no change is made.

	Present rate	Rates in 1959	Proposed increase in rate
Wagon loaders	Rs. 2.37 per ten tons	Rs. 1.75 per ten tons	Rs. 2.50 per ten tons
Jmadar	Rs. 60/- p.m.	..	Rs. 60-2-80
Waterman	Rs. 30/- "	..	Rs. 35-2-50
Bullock Cart drivers	Rs. 50/- "	..	Rs. 50-1-60
Peons	Rs. 45/-	Rs. 45-1-50
Blacksmiths	Rs. 80/-	Rs. 80-2-90

Paid Weekly Holidays:

Weekly holidays are allowed as per Mines Act which are not paid for. This is to continue.

Festival Holidays:

Presently the management allowed two paid festival holidays. This is to be increased to eight in number in a year.

Leave with Wages:

The management is prepared to allow paid leave for one day for 20 days actual attendance by the workmen. For this purpose only those staff who work for 240 days in a year shall only be entitled to it at the above rates. No separate casual and sick leave with wages will be allowed.

House Facilities:

Rest Houses have already been provided. There are no funds available to provide residential quarters to workmen.

Provident Fund and Bonus:

As per balance sheets and Profit and Loss Accounts there is no surplus available. The management cannot grant any bonus and provident fund facilities."

13. I will now proceed to decide the different items of dispute, as amended, which are set out in para 8 above of this award.

Item 1: Scales of wages:

14. As regards scales of wages for various types of operations carried on in the establishment I may deal with the different categories of the workers one by one.

According to both the parties there are three categories of workers, namely,

- (i) Piece rated workers, who are Excavators, Transporters, and Wagon Loaders;
- (ii) Daily rated workers, who are loading and unloading labourers and road repairers for trucks; and
- (iii) Monthly rated workers, who are watermen, jamadars, bullock-cart drivers, blacksmiths and peons.

According to the evidence of M.W. 1—Shri Bhandari—Quarry Manager, Gypsum Mines, Nagaor Group, there are three Gypsum Mines in Nagaor District near Bhadwasi, with which we are concerned. These three gypsum mines with their distances from Nagaor railway station and Bhadwasi railway station are as follows:

	From Nagaor	From Bhadwasi
1. Chuti Sarai Gypsum Mine	9 miles	4 miles.
2. Bhadana Gypsum mine	11 miles	10 miles.
3. Kherat Gypsum mine	17½ miles	13 miles.

M.W. 1 further said that in the above three mines of Nagaor district there is no machine but Jamsar gypsum mines are worked at some places with machine and at other places by manual labour. M.W. 1 also said that the average over-burden at all the above three places is 1 1/2 feet on an average.

Admittedly as deposed to by W. 2 also, there are three working places at Bhadwasi mines, with which we are concerned. They are Pilanwais, Ghasaniaradar and Bhadwasi, which quarries are admittedly, at a distance of 4 miles, 4 miles, 1 to 2 miles respectively from the Bhadwasi railway station.

15. On behalf of the management it was argued that the present rates of wages paid to the different categories of workers are being paid for the last 15 or 16 years and these are the rates prevalent in other gypsum mines also, in that region, and, therefore, they do not need any revision and as such the present rates should not be disturbed. On the other hand, it was argued, on behalf of the workmen, that, no doubt, the present rates are in vogue for the last 15 or 16 years but in view of the rise in foodstuffs, the fact that the prices of foodstuffs are soaring high every day, rise in the cost of living, and the like, it is imperative that the present rates which are inadequate and unreasonable should be revised and increased.

After consideration of the arguments of both sides and keeping in view the financial condition of the management and the fact that the management is not incurring loss but making profit as will be shown under Bonus, in carrying on the working of the mines, I think, in view of the abnormal rise in the price of foodstuffs and cost of living, it is essential, in the interest of justice, that the present rates which are inadequate and insufficient should be increased. The question to what extent these rates should be increased will be considered hereinafter while fixing scales of wages for the various types of operations carried on in the establishment.

16. Different Categories of Workers: (a) Excavators.—Admittedly the present rate of wages of an excavator is Rs. 1.25 nP. per ton. At present the system prevalent is that these Excavators are not the workmen directly of the management but they are the workers of sub-contractors and they are paid by the different sub-contractors and these workers in their turn are paid their wages on the basis of daily or monthly rates by the sub-contractors but the sub-contractors are paid by the management for the work done by the Excavators at the rate of Rs. 1.25 nP. per ton. The workmen demand that the rate should be increased at least to Rs. 2/- per ton, but the management maintains that there is no scope for increase at all.

In the course of the argument, however, M.W. 4 Shri Abdul Hakim, a partner of the firm, conceded before me that the management was prepared to give an increase of 0.6 nP. and, therefore, the management was prepared to increase the present rate of Rs. 1.25 nP. per ton to Rs. 1.31 nP. per ton.

In the course of the argument it was further conceded by the management that, if the middleman is eliminated, these excavators after becoming direct workers of the management would be on the pay rolls of the management, and, in that case there will be an increase in these rates of excavators by 30 per cent. more in their wages than what they are getting on this concession, therefore, if the middleman is eliminated, then the excavators according to the management would be getting Rs. 1.31 nP. plus 30 per cent. of Rs. 1.31 nP. which would be equivalent to about 1.71 nP.

The above concessions are also mentioned in the management's proposed concessions set out in Para. 12B above.

Shri Roshan Lal on behalf of the workmen in course of his arguments, conceded that the minimum rate for the excavators, should be fixed at Rs. 1.75 nP. per ton.

Taking all these facts into consideration, in my opinion, the minimum demand of Rs. 1.75 nP. made by the workmen cannot be said to be unjustified or unreasonable. It is not necessary therefore to refer to the rates mentioned in Exhibit W. 8 (Jamsar) or Exhibit M. 5 (Kavas and Uttarlal) or Exhibit M. 87 (written arguments) or Exhibit M. 88 (Bhadwasi) or Exhibit M. 54 (revised rates as per agreement with A. C. C. Limited) relied upon by the parties in support of their respective contentions.

For these reasons, I fix the wages of excavators who are piece-rated workers, at the rate of Rs. 1.75 nP. per ton.

In the above connection it was urged on behalf of the workmen that excavators are further entitled to wages for removal of overburden at the rate of Rs. 15 per 1000 c.ft. for soft earth and at the rate of Rs. 20/- per 1000 c.ft. for hard earth. The management, however, said that no charges for removal of overburden in this gypsum mine (Bhadwasi) is paid because the overburden is only $1\frac{1}{2}$ feet and not very deep as is the case in Jamsar Exhibit W. 8 where the rates relied upon by the workmen are prevalent. The workmen, however, submitted in reply that if the overburden is $1\frac{1}{2}$ feet then their emoluments will be less inasmuch as they will get charges at the above rates after measurement of the distance of the length, breadth and the depth of the overburden removed. From the charter of demands Exhibit W. 2 it appears that the Union claimed Rs. 1.50 nP. per 1000 cubic feet for removing overburden. Exhibit W. 41 shows that overburden is paid to Jamsar at the rate of Rs. 15/- per 1000 cubic feet for soft earth and Rs. 20/- for 1000 cubic feet for hard earth. Exhibit W. 1 shows the workmen concerned demanded the same rates which were prevalent in Jamsar i.e. at the rate of Rs. 1.50 nP. per 1000 cubic feet for soft earth and Rs. 2/- per 1000 cubic feet for hard earth.

It appears, therefore, that the demand of the workmen is quite reasonable and when admittedly excavators have to remove overburden, and when excavators get wages for removing overburden in other similar concerns as admitted by the management, I do not find any reason why they should not be paid wages for the removal of the same.

The excavators, therefore, would be entitled also to wages for removal of overburden on measurement at the rate of Rs. 15/- per 1000 cubic feet for soft earth and at the rate of Rs. 20/- per 1000 cubic feet for hard earth.

(b) Transporters (Camel-men and Cartmen).—According to the workmen the wages of transporters should be Rs. 6/- per ton for 4 miles, which would be equivalent to Rs. 1.50 nP. per ton per mile.

According to the management the present rate of Rs. 3.75 nP. per ton for 4 miles which is equivalent to 0.94 nP. per ton per mile is quite sufficient because at this rate the average wage of each transporter is Rs. 8/- to Rs. 10/- per day. The workmen, however, contended that there should be an increase in this rate because it includes also cost for feeding animals and for their maintenance which have now gone up very high. It was further contended, relying on Exhibit M. 27, a chart showing earnings of transporters in 1958 to October 1961, that according to the said chart the average earning per day of a transporter comes to Rs. 6.16 nP. per day, which is quite sufficient even in view of the rise in the price of fodder etc. to maintain camel or bullocks which are used for transportation and to feed them and also to make some saving for the maintenance of the transporter himself. It was further argued on behalf of the management relying on Exhibit M. 3, a chart showing rates of transport payable at Kavas and Uttarai Gypsum mines, that according to the said chart the rate of transporter in Kavas mine comes to Rs. 3/- per ten tons and in Uttarai it comes to Rs. 5/- per ten tons and, therefore, it was obvious that the present rate of Rs. 3.75 Np. per ton for 4 miles is very adequate.

It was further contended, on behalf of the management, that in Kavas and Uttarai the mines are worked departmentally.

In course of the argument, however, on behalf of the workmen, it was conceded that Rs. 4/- per ton for 4 miles should be fixed as the wages of transporters.

After a careful consideration of the arguments of both sides I am of opinion that the present rate needs revision in view of the fact that cost of maintaining animals whether camels or bullocks and the cost of living has increased considerably, and, as such, the minimum demand of Rs. 4/- per ton for 4 miles stated in the course of the arguments seems to be reasonable and fair. I, therefore, fix the wages of transporters, either by camel or bullockcart, who are piece-rated workers, at the rate of Rs. 4/- per ton for 4 miles, which would come to Re. 1/- per ton per mile. The increase in the present rate would be only 0.6Np per ton per mile.

(c) Wagon Loaders.—The wagon loaders are piece-rated workers and at present they get their wages at the rate of 0.23Np per ton. The demand of the workmen is that it should be increased to Rs. 1/- per ton. According to the present rate the daily earning of a wagon loader comes to Rs. 4.64Np per day, which can hardly be considered sufficient in view of the present rise in the cost of foodstuff and cost of living, notwithstanding that they daily load 20 tons on an average. Therefore, the present rate cannot be considered to be adequate and reasonable as argued by the management.

On behalf of the workmen however reliance was placed on the evidence of a workmen M.W. 3, who said that his wages are 0.25Np per ton and in a month he earns as a wagon loader Rs. 70/-. Reliance was also placed on Exhibit M. 180 written arguments of management in which at page 5 the wages paid to wagon loaders in Chotisara, Bhadana and Kherat is 0.44Np per ton. It was argued on behalf of the management, however, that at these three places the wagon loaders have to cut gypsum into pieces of 8" and then load it in wagons and therefore they get 0.44Np. but there is no evidence to support this contention, except the written arguments Exhibit M. 87. The workmen relied on Exhibit M. 5 wherefrom it appears that in Kavas 0.28 Np (i.e. Re. 0.4-6) per ton and in Uttarai 0.35 Np (i.e. 0.5-6) per ton are the wages of a wagon loader. It was contended in reply on behalf of the management that these rates cannot be compared and as such they furnish no basis for comparison. It was argued, therefore, on behalf of the management that Re. 1/- per ton is very excessive. To me, however, it appears that the proper and reasonable wages of wagon loaders, who have to cut and then load, should be Rs. 3/- per 10 tons, that is, 0.30 Np per ton, and, therefore, I fix the wages of wagon loaders accordingly.

(d) Loading and Unloading Labourers over Trucks.—The admitted present rate of wages for these labourers, who are daily rated and who load and unload trucks and repair roads for trucks, is Rs. 1.10-8 per day, which comes to Rs. 48/- per month. According to the workmen the wages should be raised to Rs. 2.50Np per day, which would come to Rs. 75/- per month, with an annual increment of Rs. 3/- per year. The management, however, stoutly denied that these workers are management's workmen, and therefore, it was argued on behalf of the management that it is not their responsibility to pay their wages. It was, however, admitted on behalf of both sides that the truck drivers do not belong to the management but according to the workmen the labourers employed to load and unload into the truck and repair roads for such trucks belong to management. In support of it, to negative the denial of the management, on behalf of the workmen reliance was placed on Exhibit M. 4 which is a chart filed by the management to show rates of excavation and transport payable at Bhadwasi mines, in which under item 4 the rate of labourers for loading and unloading trucks and road repairs is mentioned at Rs. 1.10-8 per day per labourer and, therefore, it was argued that it was admitted by the management that the said labourers belong to the management, otherwise there was no necessity for mentioning their rate in Exhibit M. 4. The management, however, contended that it has mentioned their rates not because they are its labourers but because they were mentioned by the workmen. However, the Union placed reliance also on Exhibit M.41, which is Profit and Loss Account for the year ending 31st December, 1958, in which also the total amount spent on loading and unloading is mentioned. In view of Exhibits M.4 and M.41 it appears to me that the stand taken by the management that these labourers for loading and unloading trucks and road repairs do not belong to it is not correct.

I, therefore, hold that these labourers belong to the management and they are employed by the management for loading and unloading trucks and for road repairs.

The next question is whether the present rate of Rs. 1-10-8 per day per labourer is sufficient and reasonable. It was argued, on behalf of the workmen, that due to the abnormal rise in foodstuffs and cost of living Rs. 48/- per month at the present is very meagre and it should be raised. Taking all the facts into consideration, I consider that the proper and reasonable rate to be fixed for such loaders should be Rs. 2/- per day per labourer which would be equivalent to Rs. 60/- per month per labourer. I, therefore, fix their wages accordingly.

(e) Waterman.—The present rate of waterman who is a monthly rated worker, is Rs. 30/- per month. But the management contended that it has increased this to Rs. 35/- per month and they get Rs. 35/- only because they have also got their cultivation work and only old men are selected for this work. The workmen, however, demanded Rs. 70/- per month in the scale of Rs. 70—3—120. The workmen relied on Exhibit W. 8, which is an agreement between the employers and workmen of Gypsum mines in Jamsar, according to which, as will appear from page 17 para 18(d), a Khalasi, which is equivalent to waterman according to workmen, gets Rs. 35—2½—55, besides D.A. at the rate of Rs. 36 or Rs. 42 per month. In my opinion, in view of the rise in price of foodstuffs and the cost of living the minimum wages for waterman, who are on monthly rated basis, should be fixed at Rs. 60/- per month in the grade of Rs. 50—1—70.

(f) Jamadar.—Jamadar is also on the monthly rated basis and he gets Rs. 60/- per month at present. The demand, on behalf of the workmen, is that his salary should be raised to Rs. 90/- per month. Reliance was placed, on behalf of the workmen, on Exhibit W. 8, the agreement between the workmen and their employers at Jamsar, wherefrom it appears from page 17 para 16, under Wage structure, that a matic gets Rs. 40—2½—60, besides D.A. of Rs. 42 or Rs. 46 per month. It was therefore, argued by the Union that the demand of Rs. 90/- per month cannot be considered unreasonable. In my opinion, taking all the facts into consideration, it would be reasonable to fix the salary of a Jamadar at the rate of Rs. 70/- per month in the grade of Rs. 70—2—90.

(g) Bullock Cart Drivers.—These bullock cart drivers, who are monthly rated workers, get at present Rs. 50/- per month but according to the management the rate has been increased to Rs. 55/- and they are at present getting Rs. 55/- per month. Demand of the workmen is that their wages should be increased to Rs. 70/- per month. In this case also reliance was placed on Exhibit W. 8 from where it would appear at page 17 para 14(a) that Driver 'C' gets Rs. 55—5—75, besides D.A. In my opinion, it would be reasonable to fix the minimum salary of Bullock Cart Drivers at Rs. 60/- per month in the grade of Rs. 60—2—70.

(h) Black Smiths.—These are also on monthly Paid basis. At present they get Rs. 80/- per month. The demand of the workmen is that they should get Rs. 90/- per month. On behalf of the management it was contended that their salary of Rs. 80/- per month is quite sufficient because they have been allowed to do private business also. In this case also reliance was placed on Exhibit W. 8, from which it appears from page 17 para 13(d) that Blacksmith 'B' gets Rs. 55—5—85, besides D.A. at the rate of Rs. 46/- per month. For this reason it was contended that the salary of blacksmiths should also be increased. To me it appears that, in view of the fact that blacksmiths are skilled workers their minimum salary should be fixed at the rate of Rs. 90/- per month per head in the scale of Rs. 90—2—100.

(i) Peons.—Peons are also monthly rated workers and are getting Rs. 45/- per month, but the demand on their behalf is that their salary should be increased to Rs. 70/- per month. In case also reliance was placed on Exhibit W. 8 from which it appears from page 17, para 19(a) that peons get Rs. 32—2—52 per month besides DA. Taking all facts into consideration it appears to me that it would be fair and reasonable to fix the salary of a peon at the rate of Rs. 50/- per month per head in the grade of Rs. 50—1—70.

17. Implementation Date.—After having fixed the wages and scales of wages of the different categories of the workmen employed in this management, the next question which arises for consideration is from which date these scales of wages should be made effective. On behalf of the workmen it was contended that these rates should be effective from the date of demand, that is, 11th September 1960, but the management contended that if the rates are increased then in that case they should be effective from the date of the award. On behalf of the workmen it was contended that retrospective effect can be given from the date of the order of reference. This proposition is not disputed and cannot possibly be disputed. The only question is from what date, in the present circumstances, the wages which have been fixed should be made effective. It appears to me that if I give them retrospective effect and apply them retrospectively either from the date of the reference or from the date of the demand great complications will arise. I would, therefore, accept the contention of the management and direct that these rates would be effective from the date of the award.

18. Re: (2)—Facilities.—I will take up the different items, on which facilities are demanded, separately.

(a) Paid Weekly Holidays.—At present there is no paid weekly holiday. There is one rest day in a week, as required by Section 28 of the Mines Act, 1952, but without wages. It was not disputed, on behalf of the management, that one day in a week should be a rest day, that is, that there should be a weekly holiday. But the question is whether this weekly holiday should be paid or without wages as at present. M.W. 4, Shri Abiul Hakim, Partner, admitted that one paid weekly holiday is granted but he said that was granted only to staff, namely, office staff who are on monthly rated basis, and not to other classes of workers. It appears from Exhibit W. 5(A), on which reliance was placed on behalf of the workmen, that in Bikaner Gypsum, Jamsar, weekly paid holidays are granted. Exhibit W. 5(A) further shows that in all the establishments mentioned therein paid weekly holidays are granted. In my opinion, therefore, the weekly holiday which is granted under the Mines Act should be paid and not without wages. It was argued, on behalf of the management, that Section 28 of the Mines Act does not provide for payment of any wages, but it does not provide either for not paying any wages. When admittedly one paid weekly holiday is granted to office staff, I find no reason why other workers should not be given that facility.

I, therefore, hold that the weekly holiday, which is admittedly given to all the workers of this mine, should be with wages and not without wages.

(b) Festival Holidays.—At present workmen get two paid festival holidays, namely, on January 26th and August 15th, but they do not get any other festival holidays. On behalf of the workmen it was demanded that there should be 10 paid festival holidays. Exhibit W. 28, on which reliance was placed on behalf of the workmen, shows that the Rajasthan Labour Advisory Board in its first meeting held on the 19th and the 20th August, 1953, decided that there should be seven paid holidays in a year with wages, out of which three National Holidays, that is, Independence Day, Republic Day and Mahatma Gandhiji's Birth Day should be compulsory and the other four to be decided by the labour and the management mutually to suit local conditions. In my opinion it is a very reasonable resolution, which be given effect to. The principles contained in Exhibit W. 28 should be followed by this management also.

In my opinion however, in the present case, there should be eight paid festival holidays, out of which Independence Day, Republic Day and Mahatma Gandhiji's Birth Day shall be compulsory and the remaining five will be decided by mutual consultation between the workmen and the management to suit local conditions.

(c) Casual Leave.—At present the workmen do not get any casual leave at all. The workmen demand 15 days' casual leave with wages. M.W. 3, Shri Sattar Khan, a wagon loader of the mine, admitted, at page 4 of his deposition, that "we also get casual leave of 10 days in a year". I think this admission of M.W. 3 represents the correct position which should be accepted as a guide for deciding this question here also. I, accordingly, direct that the workmen are entitled to casual leave with wages for 10 days in a year, after putting in 240 days' continuous service and in case of sickness, casual leave will be granted on production of medical certificate, or on personal satisfaction of the authority concerned.

(d) Provident Fund.—At present the workers have no facility for provident fund. Workmen, however, demand Provident Fund at the rate of 3 per cent of the total emoluments in a year plus equal contribution by the management. Reliance was placed on the Rules of the Provident Fund of Bikaner Gypsums Limited, Jamsar, Exhibit W. 71, according to which originally 6 per cent, but now admittedly 8 per cent, of total emoluments is paid as Provident Fund. Reliance was placed on behalf of the workmen on a decision of the Supreme Court, in Novex

Dry Cleaners V. Its workmen 1962(I) L.L.J. 271, in support of the contention that Provident Fund should be granted. In this case it was held by the Supreme Court that a Provident Fund Scheme on the lines of the Employees Provident Fund Act has now become a normal feature in many industrial concerns. To me also it appears that it is very reasonable and fair that these workers, who do not get any pension or the like, should have the benefit of Provident Fund. The deduction at the rate of 8 per cent of total emoluments in a year plus equal amount contributed by the management will, therefore, constitute the provident fund of the workmen. I, therefore, hold accordingly.

(e) Housing.—Admittedly the present arrangement is that there are shelter houses, huts, pucca buildings and Jhopras for workmen. According to the management there are six pucca and 10 Jhopras and one rest house at the quarry and one rest house and 15 pucca structures at the railway station for loaders and drivers. It was, however, contended by the workmen and conceded by the management that these numbers of houses are not sufficient, because the management has got 350 workers. It appears from Clause 12 of Exhibit M. 51, which is an agreement between the Associated Cement Companies Limited, Bombay, and, their contractors Mohammad and Sons, with whom we are concerned, that the management undertook to make its own arrangement for the housing of labour and for their comforts. The management, therefore, cannot say that it is not its responsibility to make arrangements for housing facilities for its workers, who are 350 in number. In order that great financial burden may not be thrown on the management, I consider that the management should make more housing arrangements, such as, huts, Jhopras, shelter houses or the like, so that all the workers, who like to remain at the Quarry and who do not want to go to their villages and if they are near the quarry may be comfortably accommodated. M.W. 2 I as stated that Fertiliser Corporation of India, Sindri Unit, are giving to their workers Aluminium houses and charge Rs. 1 or 2/- per month as house rent. It appears to be a good solution of the housing problem. It is open to the arrangement to accept this solution if convenient to it.

I would, therefore, direct that the management should construct aluminium houses if it likes, and if they are cheaper and let them out on rent to the workmen at the rate of Re. 1 or Rs. 2/- per month or they may construct more huts, shelter houses, and the like, so that all the workmen who like to remain at the quarry or the railway station, as the case may be, may be provided with quarters at the quarry site or at the railway station. Such an arrangement will not enhance the financial burden of the management also. This scheme should be given effect to within three years of the award and not left unimplemented. Near while the workmen will not be entitled to any house rent in lieu of housing facilities.

Re: (3) Bonus:

19. At present no bonus is given to the workmen. The contention of the management is that its financial position is such that it is not in a position to give any bonus and for that reason it could not give any bonus. The workmen, however, allege that the management is making huge profits every year and it is not correct to say that it is incurring loss and as such it is in a position to pay bonus. The workmen demand four months' wages as bonus in each of the calendar years 1958 and 1959; but they conceded later that they would be satisfied in they are given bonus even for two months in each of these two calendar years.

Before the question of bonus was taken up at Jodhpur the management raised an objection that this question of bonus for calendar years 1958 and 1959 should be considered along with the other reference, namely, No. 55 of 1963, in which the question of bonus for 1960 has been raised and has been referred for decision to this Tribunal. As, however, I had no power to do so, I asked the management to get ready but at its request I decided to have evidence, if any, on behalf of the parties, on the question of Bonus at Bikaner.

Here at Bikaner, the workmen filed two charts one for 1958 Exhibit W. 33 showing a net available surplus of Rs. 35,151.07 and another chart Exhibit W. 34 for 1959 showing the net available surplus of Rs. 37,386.80. The management, on the question of bonus filed, (i) Profit and Loss Account for 1955 Exhibits M. 64 to M. 68; (ii) Profit and Loss Account for 1956 Exhibits M. 69 to M. 73; (iii) Balance Sheet for 1957 Exhibits M. 32 and Profit and Loss Account for 1957 Exhibits M. 33 to M. 36, (iv) Profit and Loss Account for 1958 Exhibits M. 37 to M. 41; and (v) Profit and Loss Account for 1959 Exhibits M. 78 to M. 82. A written reply regarding Item 3 (Bonus) marked Exhibit M. 89 and a chart Exhibit M. 90 showing loss of Rs. 16,235 in 1958 and of Rs. 14,048/- in 1959 were also filed.

20. It was argued on behalf of the workmen, that if bonus is allowed to the workmen then the average bonus per month would be Rs. 22,000, and, therefore, they stated that in view of the net available surplus shown by them in Exhibits W. 33 and W. 34 at least one month's bonus should be granted to the workers even if not two months. It was further conceded on behalf of the workmen that at any rate 50 per cent of the net available surplus should be distributed as bonus amongst the workers.

21. The crucial question, however, is whether any bonus should at all be granted either in the calendar year 1958 or in the calendar year 1959. According to the management and as shown in the Chart Exhibit M. 190 there was no available surplus at all either in 1958 or 1959, on the other hand, there was a loss of Rs. 16,235 in 1958 and a loss of Rs. 14,048 in 1959, and, therefore, it was contended that no bonus should and could be granted for these two calendar years.

22. The figures given by the workers in the charts for bonus for 1958 and 1959 Exhibits W. 33 and W. 34 respectively are admitted by the management, but the deductions and additions made therein are not admitted. It would be useful therefore to reproduce these two charts in extenso:

23. From the above charts it will appear that the workmen have challenged the expenses on instalments to mining department, messing staff and repairs to tools and implements, and, also on conveyance, on travelling expenses in Head Office account, etc. etc. as excessive. According to the workmen there was an available surplus, after all possible and permissible deductions, of Rs. 35,151.07 in 1958 (Exhibit W. 33) and of Rs. 37,386.80 in 1959 (Exhibit W. 34). The principles laid down by the Supreme Court in The Associated Cement Companies' Limited V. Their workmen 1959 (I) L.L.J. 644=A.I.R. 1959 S.C. 967, approving the Full Bench Formula evolved in 1950 L.L.J. 1247 were accepted by both parties.

24. Unfortunately the management has not filled the break-ups of any of the items shown in any of the Profit and Loss Accounts filed by it. Exhibits M. 37 to M. 41 are the audited Profit and Loss Accounts for the year ending 31st December 1958 and Exhibits M. 178 to M. 182 are the audited Profit and Loss Accounts for the year ending 31st December 1959. In Exhibit M. 41 the net profit shown as transferred to Head Office in 1958 is Rs. 60,004.27 as against Rs. 57,709.1-0 in 1957. In 1959 Exhibit M. 182 the net profit shown is Rs. 47,692.90 as against Rs. 60,044.27 in 1958 as shown in Exhibit M. 41. In the chart Exhibit M. 190, the management has shown Rs. 30,397.00 as net profit as per Profit and Loss Account. The net profit as per profit and loss account in 1959 is shown as Rs. 30,902.00.

The case of the management is that from this net profit in 1958 and 1959 (i) income tax, (ii) return on capital at 9 per cent, and (iii) hypothetical salaries paid on fictional basis to the six partners at Rs. 300/- per month per head should also be deducted. Deductions on account of income tax are not disputed by workmen. Deductions on account of return on capital claimed at 9 per cent is however disputed and the workmen allege that it should be at 4 per cent for the years 1958 and 1959.

According to the management Mohammad and Sons consists of seven partners of whom Mr. Mohammad is aged 90 years and the other six are his sons and according to the case of the management these sons being majors look after the business and as such all the six partners are entitled to fictional salaries at Rs. 300/- per month per head, although in fact they do not charge or draw any salary as the business is a family business in which members of the family only are concerned and there is no in it.

I cannot understand how, when these partners are members of one and the same family and there is no outsider in it and when admittedly they are not taking or charging any salary at all, can the management claim deductions not on account of actual salary paid or drawn by the partners or ever actually charged by them, but on purely hypothetical and almost fictional basis. It is true that the working of the F.B. Formula is no doubt national in some respects, but I think it would not be permissible for the employer to make it more national by introducing claims of charges on purely hypothetical and almost fictional basis. The deduction of national salary of the six partners claimed by the management must, therefore, be disallowed as admittedly non of the six partners ever charged any amount as salary.

On the Chart, Exhibit M. 90, submitted by the management, after excluding the fictional salaries of Rs. 21,600/- both in 1958 and in 1959 shown to be payable to the six partners, and after reducing return on capital from 9 per cent to 4 per cent the figures work out as given below:

Net Profit as per Profit and Loss Account	Rs. 30,397.00
Deduct:
Income Tax	Rs. 1,472/-
Return on capital at 4 per cent on Rs. 261,726/-	10.470/-
	11,942.

11,942.00

1959.

Net available
surplus.

18,455.00

Net Profit as per Profit and Loss Account	30,902.00
Deduct:
Income Tax	2,000.00
Return on capital at 4 per cent. on 23,781	9,490.00
	11,490.00

11,490.00

Net available surplus: 19,412.00

The above two balances, namely, Rs. 18,455/- in 1958 and Rs. 19,412 in 1959 would thus be net available surplus on the basis of Exhibit M. 90. The management did not agree to the national salaries being disallowed and return on capital being reduced, but it conceded that if however the hypothetical salaries payable to the partners is disallowed and the return on the capital is reduced then the above two balances would represent the net available surplus in 1958 and 1959. The management accepted the position that Net Profit minus Income Tax return on the capital and salaries to partners would give the net available surplus as shown also in its chart Ext. M. 90. In view of this admission of the management I confined myself to the chart Ext. M. 90, which was the bonus short anchor of the management's argument on the question of

25. The workmen in order to prove the sound financial position of the management relied on the Profit and Loss Accounts from 1955 to 1960, which may be summarised in a tabular form as below:

Exhibit No.	Calendar Year	Net Profit from Bhadwasi mine
		Rs. As. Ps.
M. 66	1955	1,18,128 10 0
M. 71	1956	1,19,304 13 9
M. 41	1957	57,709 1 0
M. 41	1958	00,004 27 nP.
M. 83(3)	1959 } 1960 }	47,092 90 nP. 60,918 95 nP.

Exhibit M. 38 shows the net income, after deducting Head Office expenses, at Rs. 40,076.03 in 1957 and Rs. 30,397.25 nP in 1958.

Exhibit M. 83, the balance sheet as at 31st December, 1960 shows the cash in hand to be Rs. 1,10,824.42 nP out of the admitted original capital of Rs. 2,26,418.70 nP.

26. The workmen have challenged the correctness of the expenses on the items shown in Exhibit W. 33 and W. 34 and also challenged certain other expenses shown in these two exhibits but there is no material on which I can say that the expenses shown in profit and loss account submitted by the management and audited, although not corroborated by any competent witness who had a hand in its preparation, are not correct. In this view of the matter I am unable to accept the objection of the workmen and to disallow or modify the items of expenses as shown in Exhibits W. 33 and W. 34.

27. For these reasons, I held that in the calendar year 1958 the workers are entitled to 50 per cent of Rs. 18,455 and in the calendar year 1959 they are entitled to 50 per cent of Rs. 19,412 of the net available surplus found by me on the basis of the chart for 1958 and 1959 filed by the management Exhibit M. 90 after excluding fictional and hypothetical salaries shown as payable to the six partners and after reducing the amount of return on capital to 4 per cent per annum should be distributed amongst the workmen. By this the management will not be a loser at all and these will not be any financial burden at all on it.

Preliminary objection:

28. Now remains the consideration of the preliminary objection which has been put at Issue No. 1 by the Delhi Tribunal. This is to the effect that there is no Union, much less a recognised Union at Bhadwasi and as such the Union in question has no locus standi to represent the workmen, as it has not been recognised by the management. The fact that this Union was brought into existence in 1959 is admitted by the management's witness Sri Sattar Khan, M.W. 3, who admits that he is the Joint Secretary of this Union. On the admission of M.W. 3, therefore, the fact that this Union is in existence cannot be doubted.

M.W. 3 further admitted that at one time the Union had membership of about 250 members out of 350 workers, who work in the mine. The workmen have filed Minutes Books Exhibit W. 33; Cash Book Exhibit W. 34; Ledger Exhibit W. 35; Membership Registers Ext. W. 36; Membership Forms Ext. W. 37; and, three Membership Receipt Books Exhibits W. 38 to W. 40, which show that the Union is functioning in a regular way. Nothing has been shown as to why no reliance should be placed on them.

Reliance was also placed on behalf of the workmen on Ext. W. 2, the Charter of demands made by the Union on behalf of the workmen concerned on 1st December, 1960 Ext. W. 9, letter from the Union to the management on 15th September, 1960 regarding its demands; Ext. W. 14 reply dated 11th March, 1961 to the demands made by the Union and signed by the Labour Inspector (Central) Ajmer and Conciliation Officer; and Ext. W. 18, the report of the Conciliation Officer dated 11th March, 1961. These documents do show that this Union is representing the workmen of the mine, it is in existence and functioning there and also dealing with the management vis-a-vis the workmen concerned.

29. In reply, it was argued, on behalf of the management, that Exhibit W. 20 shows that this Union was registered on 27th January, 1960 and the Labour

Inspector, as appears from Exhibits M. 2, M. 3 and M. 84, inspected the said Union on 13th October, 1960, but these documents filed then and, further is that in Exhibit M. 3 it is mentioned that the Union did not produce the Union record for verification by the Labour Inspector. The workmen relied on Exhibit W. 35, the affidavit sworn on 1st October, 1962 by Shri Bharat Bhushan, General Secretary of the Union, W.W. 1, in which all the details of the Union are given. The fact that these documents were not filed before the Labour Inspector is, in my opinion, not a sufficient ground to hold that they are fabricated documents when they are not.

The workmen relied on a decision of the Supreme Court in State of Bihar Vs. Kripa Shankar Jayaswal, A.I.R. 1961, S.C. 304, in which it has been held that even an unrecognised union can espouse the cause of workmen concerned. For these reasons, in my opinion, there is no substance in the preliminary objection. I therefore, held that this Union has locus standi to espouse the cause of the workmen concerned and to represent them before this Tribunal also.

SCHEDULE

“Whether the management of East Baraboni Colliery, Post Office Charanpur, Burdwan, was justified in refusing to employ Shri Hari Singh. If not to what relief is he entitled?”

AWARD

This is an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act. There was an industrial dispute between the present opposite party and its head office employees and the said dispute was referred for adjudication by the Government of India to the Central Government Industrial Tribunal, Dhanbad, under order No. 1/1/63-LR.II dated 23rd February 1963. This reference was subsequently, by order No. 6/2/63-LR.II dated 11th July, 1963, transferred to this Tribunal for disposal.

In the meanwhile, the present applicant made an application to the Dhanbad Tribunal under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, stating that the Opposite party had contravened the provisions of Section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act by not paying monthly salary to him. This application which was registered as complaint No. 21 of 1963 before the Dhanbad Tribunal has been transferred to this Tribunal by the Government of India, under Order No. 1/1/63-LR.II dated 6th November 1963.

When the matter came up before this Tribunal to-day, the parties stated that there had been a settlement between them and filed a memorandum of settlement, copy thereof is appended herewith. It appears that there were several disputes between the employer and the workmen and these disputes are now pending adjudication before this Tribunal under Reference Nos. 8 of 1963, 9 of 1963 and 10 of 1963. It further appears that six of the workmen have filed applications against the employer under section 33A and they are also pending before this Tribunal. The settlement is a consolidated one and refers to all these matters. Under the terms of compromise in so far as it relates to the present applicant, it is agreed that his retirement is accepted and he is released from service but it is also agreed that the employer will pay him a sum of Rs. 500/00 (Rupees Five hundred only) in full and final settlement of his claims against the employer including arrears of salaries, dearness allowance, leave salary etc.

I have gone through the terms of the compromise and I am satisfied that it is relief the said Workmen are entitled?" [as per Order of Reference

AWARD

This is an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act. There was an industrial dispute between the present opposite party and its head office employees and the said dispute was referred for adjudication by the Government of India to the Central Government Industrial Tribunal, Dhanbad, under order No. 1/1/63-LRII, dated 23rd February 1963. This reference was subsequently, by order No. 6/2/63-LRII, dated 11th July 1963, transferred to this Tribunal for disposal.

In the meanwhile, the present applicant made an application to the Dhanbad Tribunal under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, stating that the Opposite party had contravened the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act terminating his services. This application which was registered as complaint No. 12 of 1963 before the Dhanbad Tribunal has been transferred to this Tribunal by the Government of India, under order No. 1/1/63-LRII, dated 6th November 1963.

When the matter came up before this Tribunal to-day, the parties stated that there had been a settlement between them and filed a memorandum of settlement, copy thereof is appended herewith. It appears that there were several disputes between the employer and the workmen and these disputes are now pending adjudication before this Tribunal under Reference Nos. 8 of 1963, 9 of 1963 and 10 of 1963. It further appears that six of the workmen have filed applications against the employer under section 33A and they are also pending before this Tribunal. The settlement is a consolidated one and refers to all these matters. Under the terms of compromise in so far as it relates to the present applicant, it is agreed that he is not to be re-instated in service but it is also agreed that the employer will pay him a sum of Rs. 868.55 nP. (Rupees Eight hundred sixty-eight and fifty-five nP. only) in full and final settlement of his claims against the employer including arrears of salaries, dearness allowance, leave salary etc.

I have gone through the terms of the compromise and I am satisfied that it is fair and reasonable. I accept it and pass an award in terms thereof.

Applicant.

Vs.

Messrs Bhowra Coke Co., 3B, Garstin Place, Calcutta-1.—Opposite party.

PRESENT:

APPEARANCES:

On behalf of applicant—Shri A. P. Chakravorty, Advocate.

On behalf of Opp. party—Shri S. Banerjee.

AWARD

This is an application under Section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act.

2. There were several industrial disputes between the employers, who are the opposite party in this case and their workmen. One of them was referred to for adjudication by the Government Order No. 1/1/63-LRII dated 23rd February 1963 to the Industrial Tribunal, Dhanbad. By subsequent order No. 6/2/63-LRII dated 11th July 1963, this reference was transferred to this Tribunal for disposal.

3. The present applicant made an application to this Tribunal under Section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act on 7th October 1963 stating that the opposite party had contravened the provisions of Section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act by terminating his services which termination was illegal, mala fide and unjust and was made without the permission of the Tribunal though a reference was pending before it.

4. The opposite party opposed the application.

5. When the matter came up before this Tribunal to-day, parties stated that there had been a settlement between them and filed a memorandum of settlement. A copy thereof is appended herewith. It appears that there were several disputes between the employers and their workmen and these disputes are now pending adjudication before this Tribunal under Reference Nos. 8 of 1963, 9 of 1963 and 10 of 1963. It further appears that six workmen have filed applications against the employers under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act and they are also pending before this Tribunal. The settlement is a consolidated one and refers to all these matters. Under the terms of compromise in so far as it related to the present applicant, it is agreed that he is not to be reinstated in service but it is also agreed that the employers have to pay him a sum of Rs. 1,658.42 nP. (Rupees one thousand six hundred fifty-eight and fortytwo nP.) only in full and final settlement of all his claims against the employers including arrears of salaries, dearness allowance, leave pay, bonus, etc.

5. I have gone through the terms of compromise and I am satisfied that it is fair and reasonable. I accept it and pass an award in terms thereof.

Presiding Officer.

S.O. 380.—In pursuance of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (14 of 1947), the Central Government hereby publishes the following award of the Industrial Tribunal, Calcutta, in the industrial dispute between the employers in relation to the Bhowra Coke Company, Calcutta and their workmen, which was received by the Central Government on the 6th January, 1964.

BEFORE THE CENTRAL GOVERNMENT INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, CALCUTTA

REFERENCE NO. 9 OF 1963

PARTIES:

Employers in relation to the Bhowra Coke Company, Calcutta.

AND

Their workmen.

PRESENT:

Shri L. P. Dave, Presiding Officer.

APPEARANCES:

On behalf of employers—Shri S. Banerjee.

On behalf of workmen—Shri A. P. Chakravorty, Advocate.

AWARD

The Government of India, Ministry of Labour and Employment, by their order No. 1/1/63-LRII dated 23rd February 1963, referred the industrial dispute existing between the employers in relation to the Bhowra Coke Company and their workmen in respect of the matters specified in the schedule annexed to the order for adjudication to the Industrial Tribunal at Dhanbad. The matters referred to were:

- (a) (i) Whether the action of the management in refusing to pay back to their Head Office employees the dearness allowance part of the bonus paid by them for each of the years from 1958 to 1961 in terms of the Industrial Tribunal Award dated the 20th February 1962, was justifiable;
- (ii) if not, to what relief the employees are entitled;
- (b) (i) Whether the demand for payment of half yearly bonus for the periods ending March 1962 and September 1962 is justified;
- (ii) If so, what should be the quantum of bonus for the above period.

2. By subsequent order No. 6/2/63-LRII dated 11th July 1963, the Government withdrew the proceedings in relation to the above dispute from the Industrial Tribunal, Dhanbad, and transferred them to this Tribunal for disposal.

3. When the matter came up before me to-day, the parties stated that there had been a compromise between them and produced a memorandum of settlement. A copy thereof is appended herewith.

4. It appears that there were several disputes between the employers and their workmen. Apart from the present reference, there are two other references namely 8 of 1963 and 10 of 1963 between the parties pending before this Tribunal. Then there is an application made by the employer under section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act against one workman for approval of the action of dismissal taken against him. Six other workmen have filed six different applications under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act. All these matters are now pending before this Tribunal and the above compromise relates to all these matters. There are seven workmen involved in the different proceedings. It appears that two of them had been dismissed; two removed from service; one has retired and the remaining two have resigned. Under the terms of settlement, the persons who have been dismissed or removed from service are not to be reinstated and the retirement and resignations of the others are to be accepted. In other words, none of the seven persons is now to continue in service. All of them are however to be paid lump sum amounts specified against their names in full and final settlement of all their claims against the employers including arrears of pay, dearness allowance, leave pay, notice pay, bonus etc. Awards in favour of all these workmen are being passed separately in the other matters.

So far as the present dispute is concerned, it relates to amounts regarding bonus or part of the bonus for different years. Under the settlement, the amount of bonus payable to the different workers has been included in the amount payable to them. I am told that the employer has no other employee excepting these seven workmen. The result therefore is that so far as the present dispute is concerned, it does not now survive as the amount of bonus has been included in the amount agreed to be paid to the different workmen. The parties have therefore stated before me that in view of this compromise, the workmen do not intend to proceed with the dispute which should be deemed as settled and the Union does not press for any award.

In the result, I pass no award in this case.

The 31st December, 1963.

APPEARANCES:

On behalf of Complainant—Shri A. P. Chakravorty, Advocate.

On behalf of Opposite party—Shri S. Banerjee.

AWARD

This is an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act. There was an industrial dispute between the present opposite party and its head office employees and the said dispute was referred for adjudication by the Government of India to the Central Government Industrial Tribunal, Dhanbad, under order No. 1/1/63-LR.II dated 23rd February 1963. This reference was subsequently, by order No. 6/2/63-LR.II dated 11th July 1963, transferred to this Tribunal for disposal.

In the meanwhile, the present applicant made an application to the Dhanbad Tribunal under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, stating that the Opposite party had contravened the provisions of Section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act by not paying monthly salary to him. This application which was registered as complaint No. 24 of 1963 before the Dhanbad Tribunal has been transferred to this Tribunal by the Government of India, under Order No. 1/1/63-LR.II dated 6th November 1963.

When the matter came up before this Tribunal to-day, the parties stated that there had been a settlement between them and filed a memorandum of settlement copy thereof is appended herewith. It appears that there were several disputes between the employer and the workmen and these disputes are now pending adjudication before this Tribunal under Reference Nos. 8 of 1963, 9 of 1963 and 10 of 1963. It further appears that six of the workmen have filed applications against the employer under section 33A and they are also pending before this Tribunal. The settlement is a consolidated one and refers to all these matters. Under the terms of compromise in so far as it relates to the present applicant, it is agreed that his resignation is accepted and he is released from service, but it is also agreed that the employer will pay him a sum of Rs. 6396.37 n.P. (Rupees Six thousand three hundred ninetysix and thirtyseven n.P. only) in full and final settlement of his claims against the employer including arrears of salaries, dearness allowance, leave salary etc.

I have gone through the terms of the compromise and I am satisfied that it is fair and reasonable. I accept it and pass an award in terms thereof.

S.O. 382.—In pursuance of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (14 of 1947), the Central Government hereby publishes the following award of the Industrial Tribunal, Calcutta, in the industrial dispute between the employers in relation to the Bhowra Coke Company and their workmen, which was received by the Central Government on the 6th January, 1964.

BEFORE THE CENTRAL GOVERNMENT INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, CALCUTTA

REFERENCE NO. 8 OF 1963

PARTIES:

Employers in relation to the Bhowra Coke Company,

AND

Their workmen.

PRESENT:

Shri L. P. Dave, Presiding Officer.

APPEARANCES:

On behalf of employers—Shri S. Banerjee.

On behalf of workmen—Shri A. P. Chakravorty, Advocate.

AWARD

The Government of India, Ministry of Labour and Employment, by their order No. 6/2/63-LRII, dated the 23rd January, 1963, referred the industrial dispute existing between the employers in relation to the Bhowra Coke Company and their workmen on the question whether the suspension of Shri R. N. Mukherjee from 25th April, 1962 and his subsequent dismissal from 18th June, 1962, were justified and if not, to what relief he was entitled, for adjudication to the Central Government Industrial Tribunal at Dhanbad. By subsequent order of even number dated 11th July, 1963, the Government withdrew the proceedings in relation to the present dispute and transferred them for disposal to this Tribunal.

2. When the matter came up before me to-day, the parties stated that they had settled the dispute and produced a memorandum of the terms of settlement, a copy of which is appended herewith. It appears that there were several disputes between the employers and their workmen both collectively as well as individually. Apart from the present reference, there are two other references pending before this Tribunal between the employers and their workmen; there are seven applications, one under section 33 and six under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act pending between the employers and different workmen. The compromise relates to all the matters. So far as the present reference is concerned, the terms of compromise are to the effect that Shri R. N. Mukherjee, about whose dismissal the present dispute relates, is not to be re-instated in service. It is further agreed that the employers are to pay him a lump sum of Rs. 8,120/- (Rupees eight thousand one hundred twenty and seventy-three nP.) only in full and final settlement of all his claims against the employers including his claim for arrear salaries, dearness allowance, leave pay, compensation, notice pay, bonus etc. The amount is to be paid by certain instalments through Shri A. P. Chakravorty, Advocate for the workmen.

I therefore pass an award in terms of the compromise. No order as to costs

MINISTRY OF HEALTH

New Delhi, the 24th January 1964

S.O. 400.—In exercise of the powers conferred by section 12 and 33 of the Drugs Act, 1940 (23 of 1940), the Central Government hereby makes the following further amendments in the Drugs Rules, 1945, the same having been previously published as required by the said section.

These rules may be called the Drugs (First amendment) Rules, 1964.

2. In the Drugs Rules, 1945,

(i) for rule 126, the following rule shall be substituted namely:—

"126.—Standards for substances intended to be used for the destruction of vermin or insects which cause disease in human beings or animals.

Insecticides.—The standards for substances intended to be used for the destruction of vermin or insects which cause disease in human beings or animals, commonly known as insecticides, shall be the standards for identity, purity or strength laid down in the prescribed Pharmacopoeia or the formula or list of ingredients displayed in the prescribed manner on the label on the container.

Disinfectants.—The standards for disinfectants shall be such as are laid down in Schedule O".

(ii) in schedule K, for entry 12, the following entry shall be substituted, namely:—

"12. Substances intended to be used for destruction of vermin or insects which cause disease in human beings or animals, viz. insecticides and Disinfectants.

The provision of Chapter IV of the Act and the Rules thereunder which require them to be covered by a sale licence".

(iii) after Schedule N, the following Schedule shall be inserted, namely:—

"SCHEDULE O

(See Rule 126)

A. Provisions applicable to Black Disinfectants Fluid (Emulsifying).

Black Disinfectants Fluid (Emulsifying) is a homogeneous solution prepared from coal tar acid fractions with the aid of a suitable emulsifier. It shall contain not less than 40 per cent w/w of Coal Tar Acids, Phenolic compounds, and Coal Tar Oils and shall have a Phenol coefficient of not less than 18 (Grade 1) 10 (Grade 2), or 5 (Grade 3). It shall not contain quaternary ammonium compounds, mercury salts, Kerosene or other non-phenolic distillates.

Stability after dilution.

Preparation of artificial hard water.—40 ml. of N/1 Hydrochloric Acid is neutralised with a slight excess of calcium carbonate and filtered. The filtrate is diluted to 1000 ml. with distilled water. 10 parts of this solution is further diluted to 100 parts with distilled water.

Procedure.—To 475 ml. and 495 ml. respectively of the artificial hard water contained in each of two 50 ml. stopper measuring cylinders at a temperature between 15°C and 45°C 25 ml. and 5 ml. respectively of the sample are added and emulsified by inverting and righting the cylinders 30 times. The cylinders are maintained at a temperature between 15°C and 45°C for 6 hours, and examined by reflected light. Not more than a trace of separation shall occur at top and bottom.

Assay for Coal Tar Acids, Coal Tar Oils and Phenolic Compounds.

For Black Disinfectant Fluids.—10 g. of the sample accurately weighed is shaken with 5 ml. of saturated solution of sodium chloride and transferred to a 250 ml. separating funnel. 50 ml. of solvent ether, pre-cooled to 15°—20°C, is added, the mixture shaken vigorously and allowed to stand. 3—4 ml. of Ethyl Alcohol may, if necessary, be added to hasten separation into two layers. The aqueous layer is run off into a second separating funnel (150 ml.) and extracted with 2 more portions of 20 ml. each of solvent ether. The ether extracts are collected together and washed twice with 25 ml. of distilled water each time and the aqueous portions are rejected. The ether extract is finally collected into a tared 250 ml. wide mouthed flask or beaker (containing a few glass beads) through a layer of anhydrous sodium sulphate. The separating funnel is washed with about 20 ml. of solvent ether and this is collected into the flask or beaker through the same layer of anhydrous sodium sulphate. The ether is distilled off and the residue dried to constant weight on a steam bath. From the weight of the residue, the percentage of coal tar acids and oils is calculated.

Assay for Phenol Co-efficient.—All apparatus used in the test must be scrupulously clean and sterile immediately before use.

Special Apparatus Inoculating loop.—4 mm. in internal diameter formed at the end of a length of 28 S.W.G. (0.376 mm.) wire of platinum or platinum iridium alloy measuring 38 mm. from the loop to the holder. The loop is bent at such an angle as will facilitate its removal vertically from the surface of the liquid.

Incubator.—Maintained at 37°C + 1°C.

Constant temperature water bath.—17°C and 18°C.

Dropping Pipette.—To deliver 0.2 ml. in about 5 drops.

Both tubes.—12.5×2 cm. hard glass test tubes.

Medication tubes.—12.5×2 cm. test tubes.

Culture Medium.—20 g of Lab. Lemoë, 20 g of peptone and 10 g of sodium chloride are dissolved in 1000 ml. of distilled water. The solution is boiled for 30 minutes cooled and made up to 1000 ml. with freshly boiled and cooled distilled water. 25 ml. of this broth is titrated at 30°C with N/10 sodium hydroxide solution, using 0.1 ml. of 0.5 per cent phenolphthalein solution as indicator. By calculation from this titration the bulk of the broth shall be neutralised with N/1 sodium hydroxide solution and brought to boil to precipitate phosphates, and filtered while hot. The broth is adjusted to pH 7.6 by the addition of N/1 Hydrochloric acid, using a comparator with phenol red as the indicator, and sterilized by heating in an autoclave. After cooling, the broth is filtered and distributed in 5 ml. quantities into sterile broth tubes and sterilized in an autoclave at 121°C (15 pounds per square inch) for 10 minutes. The final reaction of the broth is between pH 7.3 and 7.5.

Culture.—Cultures of Salmonella Typhi (786) Bacterium Typhosum which shall be used. This culture shall be maintained in the laboratory, by weekly subculture on a nutrient Agar Slope (made by dissolving 2.5 per cent agar in the broth prepared as above) incubating the slope for the first 24 hours at 37°C and then keeping it cool, preferably below 22°C. A little of growth from a stock agar slope culture is transferred to a 5 ml. broth tube and incubated at 37°C for 24 hours. For subsequent generations a standard loopful of the culture is transferred to a fresh broth tube and incubated at 37°C before. Only cultures which have been grown for 24 hours at 37°C as before and only those between the third and fourteenth generation shall be used.

Standard Phenol.—A 5 per cent w/v solution in sterile distilled water of chemically pure phenol having a crystallising point of not less than 40.5°C is prepared. Test dilutions are prepared from this stock solution containing 1 g of phenol in each 5, 100, 105, 110 and 115 ml. of solution. These dilutions shall be used within a week of preparation.

Test Solution of Disinfectant.—The sample is mixed thoroughly, 5 ml. withdrawn in a capacity pipette and discharged into about 480 ml. of sterile distilled water in a 500 ml. glass-stoppered sterile measuring cylinder, and the pipette rinsed in the clear liquid. The solution is diluted to 500 ml. and mixed thoroughly by a cork screw motion. Serial test dilutions are prepared by making up 5 or 20 ml. amounts of this solution to the appropriate volume with distilled water. The dilutions are made in arithmetical series, spaced in units of 50, i.e., 1 in 100, 1 in 150, 1 in 200 and so on upto 1 in 400, and in units of 100 thereafter.

Procedure.—5 ml. of each of the chosen dilutions of the disinfectant are measured into four sterile medication tubes, and placed in a suitable rack alongside the 24 hours broth culture and fifth tube containing 5 ml. of one of the standard phenol dilutions in a waterbath maintained at 17°C to 18°C. When the content of the tubes and the culture have reached the temperature of the waterbath, 0.2 ml. of the culture is added to the first tube and shaken gently. After 30 seconds the second tube is subcultured and so on until the fifth tube has been inoculated. 30 seconds after the last inoculation, i.e. 2.5 minutes after the first, the first tube is shaken and one standard loopful of the mixture is subcultured in a 5 ml. tube of broth. The procedure is repeated at 30 second intervals until the whole cycle has been repeated four times, that is until each medication tube has been subcultured after 2.5, 5, 7.5 and 10 minutes disinfection time. The broth subculture tubes are incubated at 37°C for not less than 48 hours and not more than 72 hours. The presence or absence of growth in each tube is recorded. If there is any evidence of contamination in a broth tube, the whole test is to be discarded and repeated.

Calculation of the Phenol Co-efficient.—The Phenol co-efficient is calculated by dividing the dilution of disinfectant which shows life after 2.5 and 5 minutes, but not after 7.5 and 10 minutes, by that dilution of phenol which shows the same end point. The following is typical test result.

Disinfectant	Dilution	Time culture was exposed to action of disinfectant (in minutes)
		2½	5	7½	10
A	1 in 1000	—	—	—	—
A	1 in 1100	+	—	—	—
A	1 in 1200	+	+	—	—
A	1 in 1300	+	+	—	—
Control Phenol 1 in 105		+	+	—	—

(+ = Growth — = No growth)

Phenol Co-efficient = $\frac{1200}{105} = 11.4$

NOTE: The reagents and solution employed in the above test shall comply with the specifications laid down in the Indian Pharmacopoeia, unless otherwise specified.

Stability.—Black Disinfectant Fluid (Emulsifying) shall remain stable for at least six months from the date of manufacture.

Storage.—Black Disinfectant Fluid (Emulsifying) shall be stored in mild steel, tinned mild steel or other suitable containers. It shall not be stored in containers made of galvanised iron.

Labelling.—In addition to the labelling provisions under the Drugs Rules label on the container shall state (i) the name of the product, (ii) the name and address of the manufacturer, (iii) grade and Phenol Co-efficient of the product, (iv) the date of manufacture, (v) the date before which the product shall be used, (vi) the quantity present in the container, and (vii) the method of use.

B. Provision Applicable to White Disinfectant Fluid.

White Disinfectant Fluid is a finely dispensed, stabilized comprising coal tar acids and coal tar oils. It shall contain not less than 25 per cent of w/w of Coal Tar acids, Phenolic compounds and Coal Tar oils and shall have phenol co-efficient of not less than 18 (Grade 1), 10 (Grade 2) or 5 (Grade 3).

Stability after dilution.

Preparation of artificial sea water.—27.0 g of sodium chloride and 5.0 g of magnesium sulphate are dissolved in sufficient water to produce 1000 ml. The solution is filtered before use.

Procedure.—To 475 and 495 ml. respectively of the artificial sea water contained in each of two 500 ml. stoppered measuring cylinders and a temperature between 15°C and 45°C, 25 and 5 ml. respectively of the sample is added and emulsified by inverting and righting the cylinders 30 times. The emulsion is maintained at a temperature between 15°C and 45°C for 6 hours and examined by reflected light. Not more than a trace of separation shall occur at top and bottom.

Assay for Coal Tar Acids, Phenolic Compounds and Coal Tar Oils.

Determined by the method given under 'Black Disinfectant Fluids (Emulsifying)' subject to the modification that 10 g of the sample is shaken with 5 ml. of 1:1 sulphuric acid before the addition of ether.

Stability.—White Disinfectant Fluid shall remain stable for at least 3 months from the date of manufacture.

Storage.—White Disinfectant Fluid shall be stored in mild steel, tinned mild steel or other suitable containers. It shall not be stored in containers made of a galvanized iron.

Labelling.—In addition to the labelling provisions under the Drugs Rules the label on the container shall state (i) the name of the product, (ii) the name and address of the manufacturer, (iii) grade and Phenol Co-efficient of the product, (iv) the date of manufacture, (v) the date before which the product shall be used, (vi) the quantity present in the container, and (vii) the method of use."
